

WATSON SPEAKS HERE ON MONDAY

Because of Demand For Him in His Home City, He Will Make Address in Afternoon

AT NEWCASTLE THAT NIGHT

Line of Parade for Young Republicans District Meeting Announced—Winchester Girls to Sing

A change in arrangements was made today whereby the people of Rush county will get to hear James E. Watson speak in this city. The plans were so changed that he will speak in Rushville next Monday afternoon at two o'clock at the coliseum.

It has always been customary for Mr. Watson to close the campaign in his home city, but this year the committee told him to speak wherever he believed it would do him the most good, but this did not satisfy Mr. Watson and the afternoon speech in this city was crowded in between a noon meeting at Newcastle and a night meeting in that city.

The parade tomorrow night preceding the rally of the young republicans of the district will form on the east and south sides of the public square. The parade will move promptly at seven-thirty o'clock and every republican of the county is urged to participate. There will be plenty of music and drum corps and red fire. The parade promises to be one of the largest demonstrations of the campaign.

There will be a section of the parade for automobiles. The parade will move around the court house, north in Main street to the Graham Annex auditorium. Word from over the district is encouraging to the local committee and a large crowd is expected. The speaker of the evening is J. O. Bachelor, mayor of Marion and a former progressive.

Definite word was received this afternoon that Miss Vera Mullen and Miss Iris Robinson of Winchester would come and sing at the meeting tomorrow night. They sang campaign songs at the Watson meeting in Richmond a week ago last night and set the crowd wild. In his speech at Richmond, Mr. Watson referred to the two girls as children of his playmates when he was a boy in Winchester.

In securing Mr. Watson it will be necessary to bring him here from Newcastle following a noon factory meeting there and then take him back for a night meeting. The change in arrangements was most pleasing to local people who have depended on hearing Mr. Watson speak this campaign. That Rush county believes in Mr. Watson will be shown Monday afternoon. It is expected the large building will be packed.

Arrangements for the Saturday night rally here, at which time Senator L. Y. Sherman of Illinois, will speak, are going forward. This meeting will in no way interfere with the Watson meeting Monday afternoon.

ELKS TO BRING SHOW HERE

The Round Table Festival company will appear here at the Graham Annex auditorium December 8, under the auspices of the Elks lodge, it was announced today. The company features a Russian dancer and interprets classical dancing.

2 HALLOWEEN ACCIDENTS

(By United Press.)

Kokomo, Ind., Nov. 1.—Clay Hamilton, age 33, shot and killed himself here last night after he had masked as the angel of death for a Halloween party. Lowell Graham, age 7, received fatal burns when a clown suit which he wore caught fire at a Halloween celebration.

MASKED FORMS CROWD STREETS

Rushville People go in For This Feature of Halloween Celebration More Than Ever

FEW PRANKS ARE PLAYED, TOO

After Answering Three False Alarms Fire Department Finally Finds Fire Early Today

The halloween celebration in this city was featured by more masked people than ever before and for several hours last night the downtown streets were crowded with people, dressed in all kinds of costumes. The police report that property damage was kept down to a minimum and while some damage was reported it was not as large as in former years.

The celebration began almost as soon as it was dark. Men, women and children masked and got in the parade. In the resident district the halloween celebrators went into many homes, making short calls. They would walk in the houses, stay a few minutes and without uttering a single word, get up and continue on their way.

The police kept close watch for law violators. Three false alarms was the net result of the law violations as far as the police know. In the past several years the halloween celebrations here have taken on the "safe and sane" appearance, many people masking and last night this idea was carried out more than ever before.

After answering three false alarms, the fire department was called to a fire this morning. The blaze was at the home of Elmer May in West First street and resulted in small damage. The wall paper over a hole in the flue caught fire and for a time the blaze looked dangerous. The department was called but it was not found necessary to throw any water as the family had the fire under control by the time the department arrived.

The halloween jokers played the old false alarm gag over time last night. The police made an effort to locate the persons pulling the boxes but failed to do so. The first alarm came in about eleven o'clock from box No. 42, Fifth and Harrison, and shortly afterward an alarm was sent in from First and Pearl streets. Along about twelve-thirty o'clock another alarm came in from the box at Harrison and Fifth streets.

The city officials consider this a poor halloween prank and would welcome the chance to make an example of someone.

DR. HOWE WILL SPEAK HERE

I. U. English Professor Will Address Teachers Institute

The teachers institute of the Rushville public schools will be held at the Graham high school Saturday, with sessions both morning and afternoon. The papers and speeches heard at the teachers convention in Indianapolis last week, will be discussed by the teachers at the morning session. Dr. William T. Howe, professor of English in Indiana university, will lecture at 1:15 on "Literary Appreciation." He is said to be a very interesting and able speaker and will give a series of talks at the institute for the next six meetings. Everyone is invited to hear his lecture.

A box social will be given at school No. 10, Rushville township, Friday night.

CHILDREN WILL REMAIN IN HOME

Judge Sparks Decides They are Better Off There and Alfred McDonald Loses Suit

S. & S. O. H. HEAD WINS CASE

Judgment is Rendered by Judge Sparks in Two Account Suits for $86.65 and $113.05

Judge Sparks this morning returned his verdict in the habeas corpus proceedings brought by Alfred McDonald of Connersville against Temple H. Dunn, superintendent of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' home at Knightstown, finding for the defendant and refusing to permit McDonald to have the three children that are now in the home. The costs of the action were assessed against McDonald.

The court stated that in his opinion McDonald offered no inducements as to why he should have the children and believed that for the present at least the children were better off in the home than in his custody. It was brought out in the trial that McDonald had been fined in Anderson for not supporting his children. After this he roamed about the country and his wife finally placed the children in the home. McDonald stated that he has a home for the children, but he is not married and the court believed this kind of a home was not as good as the three children are now receiving.

The suit was brought when the home officials refused to release the children to McDonald. He was formerly employed at the Arbuckle foundry in this city.

The case of Harvey M. Cowing against Thamer McCarty on a note demanding $100, was submitted for trial today and judgment rendered for the plaintiff in the sum of $86.65 and $10 attorney fees.

The suit of Robert L. Tompkins, administrator of the estate of the late John W. Tompkins, against William and Ralph Pitman, father and son, respectively, was also submitted to the court. Judgment was returned against William Pitman in the sum of $113.05 and $10 attorney fees. The court found for the defendant Ralph Pitman, because he is a minor. The suit was on a note in which $175 was demanded.

SHAW MISTAKES THE NAME

Former Secretary of Treasury Disappoints Spiceland Audience

Leslie M. Shaw, secretary of the treasury in President Roosevelt's cabinet, inadvertently went on a "wild goose" chase in Indiana yesterday and as the result an audience at Spiceland was disappointed in not hearing an able discussion of the tariff and other campaign issues. Mr. Shaw was informed that to get to Spiceland he would have to take a train to Newcastle and drive to Spiceland. Instead, he took a train from Indianapolis to Greencastle, going in the opposite direction. The worst part of the error, the republican state central committee asserts, is that this is the third time in the present campaign that the people of Spiceland have been disappointed in a republican speaker. The disappointments were caused through failure to make proper train connections.

SUPPLIES ARE READY

The election inspectors are urged to get their supplies Saturday at the county clerk's office. Clerk Taylor has the supplies all ready to be given out. The inspectors will have to come in person for the supplies as they must sign for them.

SAYS HE WOULD NOT BE FORCED

Congressman Gray Makes Chief Point of Address Out of Letter Carriers' Opposition

NO MENTION OF ADAMSON LAW

Declares Progressive Democrats Enacted Many Reforms Wanted by Republican Progressives

Congressman Finly Gray made his bi-ennial plea last night to the voters of Rushville to be returned to congress next Tuesday. The main plea of his whole speech, in which he gave the reasons why he thought he merited the suffrage of the sixth district, was that he refused to be intimidated by the letter carriers' association and forced into voting for a pension for them.

Congressman Gray read a report of the meeting of the letter carriers' in Indianapolis at which time his position was stated with reference to the pension bill by members from the sixth district, who recommended that he be defeated. He declared that much of the opposition to his candidacy was due to his failure to support their bill.

At the same time, Representative Gray, during his speech made no reference to the Adamson bill, which was forced on congress by the railway trainmen on threat of a strike. Mr. Gray voted for the Adamson bill.

The congressman reviewed what he said were the reform measures which had been enacted by the democratic congress—the same reforms that the progressive republicans and progressive democrats had been fighting for many years.

"The progressive democrats succeeded in gaining control of their party organization and enacted these reforms," he declared, "and progressive republicans failed after a 16-year fight because there was more resistance in their party than in the democratic party."

The representative gave as a reason for the dissemination of the progressive party the fact that the democratic party had enacted into law all the reforms for which it stood and there was no longer any reason for its existence.

The reform measures which he outlined as those demanded by the progressives and enacted into law by the democratic congress were: the abolishment of the rule by which the speaker of the house appointed all committees, thus making the house committees more responsive to the will of the representatives of the people; direct election of United States senators; income tax, non-partisan tariff commission, currency law, child labor law.

"Self defense is the first law of nature and I seem to be following in that line," said the congressman when he launched into the personal appeal for votes.

"It is not easy to serve all the people; there are always a few men who want special favors without regard to the many and who threaten, with their power, to enforce what they call their rights."

It was at this point that Congressman Gray referred to the opposition to his candidacy by the letter carriers. He said he believed his political success is due to the fact that he has deserved the support of the people. The representative recalled that the letter carriers' pension was indorsed by the St. Louis convention, but that he repudiated that plank.

"It is not always easy to preserve the power of the people," he continued. "I have every respect for the power of my friend, the woman suffragist. So far as the abstract principle is concerned, it is all right, but they ask me to take the question

LOCAL BETTING FAVORS G. O. P.

Democratic Money is Very Scarce Over $1,600 in Wagers on Republicans Being Untouched

2 TO 1 ON D. W. COMSTOCK

Local Republicans, Failing to Get Action, Take $1,150 in Even Money at Connersville

Betting on the boards in Rushville continues to favor the republicans, both on the outcome of the national and county elections. In fact, democratic money is very scarce, very few bets being taken. Local men have even taken their money to Connersville in order to secure action and there the betting is favorable to the republicans.

On one board in this city a total of $1,600 that the republican candidates will be elected remains untaken. Several bets at $100 even money that Watson will beat Taggart have been taken and there are ten times as many bets, in small sums, that Hughes will carry Indiana and be elected that are not taken.

The betting is even money on the presidential and senatorial races. Judge Comstock continues to rule the favorite over Finly Gray in the congressional outcome. The prevailing odds are 2 to 1 that Comstock will win. Many of the bets are $50 to $25 that the Richmond man will win his race.

Democratic confidence in Rush county is not being backed by money indicating that they have about given up hope. This applies to the county ticket as well. There are many bets that the entire republican county ticket will be elected. There are several bets of $25 even money that McMillin, Jones and Moore, all on the republican ticket, will be elected.

There are several bets that James E. Watson will receive a plurality of 300 in Rush county and none of these is taken. One bet of $500 that Hughes will be elected has been taken near Carthage.

At Connersville within the past two days four bets of $1,000 each were posted and taken on the result of the presidential outcome. These bets were no more than taken until another $1,000 was offered that Hughes would be elected. Late yesterday this bet remained untaken. Local men secured a total of $1,150 at Connessville one day this week.

The betting on the election, considered by many a barometer on the sentiment, has been brisk all over the country. In Wall street yesterday the odds again switched to 10 to 8 in favor of Hughes.

ISABELLE D. FRY IS DEAD

Widow of Late James P. Fry Expires at Home North of City

Mrs. Isabelle D. Fry, 91 years old, widow of the late James P. Fry, died yesterday afternoon shortly after 3 o'clock at her home north of the city. Mrs. Fry had been ill for some time suffering from a complication of diseases and senility and her death was not unexpected. Mrs. Fry had been a resident of this county for a number of years. She was the last of six children and was born Mar. 7, 1925. She was married to James Fry in 1841. There was no family. The funeral services will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock at the late residence by the Rev. C. M. Yocum and burial will take place in East Hill cemetery.

A marriage license was issued this afternoon to Frank McMichael and Nina P. Wertz.

BORDER LIFE IS DESCRIBED

William Ochiltree of Connersville, Home on Furlough, Talks to High School Today

IDEAS ON PREPAREDNESS

Believes Young Americans Should be Forced to Spend One Year in Military Training

Conditions on the Mexican border were described in an interesting way by William Ochiltree before the local high school this morning. Too, he gave a plea for universal preparedness both in military training and equipment, which he said the late trouble has shown the need of. Mr. Ochiltree, of Connersville Ind., is home on a furlough and will return Sunday to Llano Grande, where he is serving in the army.

He dealt first with the geographical conditions there, telling of some of the hardships the American boys had had to suffer because of the climate. It was necessary to put drainage in all of the tents because they arrived there during the rainy season. He mentioned facts, unusual ones, about the plants they had seen and the trouble that mosquitoes and tarantulas had caused.

The inside life of the soldiers was brought out in his short stories about his experiences as a commissary sergeant, for as such Mr. Ochiltree has been serving. From his summary of the daily routine of the soldiers, drill and hikes took a good part of the day. His plea for universal preparedness was based on the response of young men to arms and the equipment which awaited them.

In his mind, the need of preparedness can best be met by forcing Americans to devote one year of their time between the ages of 18 and 25 to military training and then at any time war should come, there will be a ready response of trained soldiers.

He advocates, too, that the country should have equipment ready for any emergency. Waiting for equipment, the soldiers had met many inconveniences. The immediate response of young Americans to the call to arms, he said, proved that a standing army could be obtained at any time, but the value of this would be multiplied by training and equipment.

HUGHES TALKS IN CONFIDENT STRAIN

Says at Sullivan Today That he Has Felt in These Days a Growing Sentiment.

PEOPLE ARE ALWAYS RIGHT

(By United Press.)

Sullivan, Ind., Nov. 1.—"You can be sure that in the long run the American people do not make any mistakes in respect to what is necessary to their prosperity and the future of the country and I have felt in these days a growing sentiment," was the confident note sounded here today by Republican nominee Hughes in addressing a crowd of 2,000 persons. He spoke also of a firm and unyielding policy for maintenance of just rights. Continuing in his strain of prophecy and confidence as to the outcome, the nominee declared:

"There has been a very perceptible current of opinion. It gives me assurance that the American people have been sifting the various claims made and have been coming to their own conclusions. They know perfectly well that we are now in a very unsatisfactory condition."

A REMARKABLE STATEMENT

Mrs. Sheldon Spent $1900 for Treatment Without Benefit. Finally Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Englewood, Ill. — "While going through the Change of Life I suffered with headaches, nervousness, flashes of heat, and I suffered so much I did not know what I was doing at times. I spent $1900 on doctors and not one did me any good. One day a lady called at my house and said she had been as sick as I was at one time, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made her well, so I took it and now I am just as well as I ever was. I cannot understand why women don't see how much pain and suffering they would escape by taking your medicine. I cannot praise it enough for it saved my life and kept me from the Insane Hospital." — Mrs. E. SHELDON, 5657 S. Halsted St., Englewood, Ill.

Physicians undoubtedly did their best, battled with this case steadily and could do no more, but often the most scientific treatment is surpassed by the medicinal properties of the good old fashioned roots and herbs contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If any complication exists it pays to write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special free advice.

SUBMARINE ISSUE LOOMS UP AGAIN

With Five Americans Dead as Result of Sinking of Marina, Situation is Fraught With Danger

POLITICS NOT TO INTERFERE

(By United Press.)

Washington, Nov. 1.—The situation growing out of the sinking of the steamer Marina by a German submarine today loomed up as an issue fraught with the most serious possibilities since the torpedoing of the Sussex.

With five Americans believed to be dead as the result of the sinking of the British steamer and no evidence yet to show that the submarine gave them a chance for their lives, the situation has become extremely grave.

Germany has been asked for the submarine commander's report of the affair while the United States consular and diplomatic representatives near the scene have been directed to forward by cable all information that can be found.

Secretary of State Lansing today vigorously denied that the campaign will have any effect on the department's action in the Marina case or that there has been any change in the submarine policy of either the president or his department. Lansing said he made this statement after it was called to his attention that such a suggestion had been made.

WATSON LEADS IN WAYNE STRAW VOTE

Senatorial Candidate Ahead of Other Three in Poll Being Taken by the Palladium.

LEADS TAGGART IN INDIANA

As a testimonial that the reception given James E. Watson a week ago last night in Richmond will be backed up by the voters of Wayne county may be cited the straw vote which is being taken by the Richmond Palladium, an independent newspaper, in Wayne county. In the ballots announced yesterday, Mr. Watson led the senatorial candidates with 967 votes and Harry New was next with 831. Taggart and Kern the democratic candidates, have 640 and 539 respectively. Watson's vote has been gaining more each day than any of the other senatorial candidates. Hughes has 1100 votes to Wilson's 826.

Watson is more than 400 votes ahead of his opponent in the Cincinnati Enquirer poll, which includes all of Indiana. He has 2,492 to date, as against 2,026 for Taggart. New has 2,661 to Kern's 2,296. Hughes is leading Wilson in the Enquirer poll 3,469 to 2,870. Watson led yesterday in the vote taken at the Haynes-Stellite company's plant in Kokomo.

German Subsea Freighter Makes Second Voyage, Landing at New London, Conn., Today

TWENTY-ONE DAYS AT SEA

(By United Press.)

New London, Conn., Nov. 1.—Safe from Atlantic perils after buffeting in rough gales, the German sub-sea freighter docked here early today on her second American voyage.

Twenty-one days out from Bremen, she arrived shortly after midnight with her crew of 25, healthy, and her valued cargo intact.

During the forenoon the crew remained aboard the submarine, many of them sleeping while Captain Koenig conferred with officials of the Eastern Forwarding company.

No time will be lost in unloading her precious cargo, said to include valuable drugs and rare medicines shut off from America by the war. Her whole cargo is said to be valued at about $1,000,000 and she will take back a cargo of nickel and rubber of nearly equal value to use in hospitals and for munitions. In addition it is understood she carried diplomatic mail for Ambassador Von Bernstorff.

18 YEARS OF LIVER TROUBLE

Finally Relieved by the Old Reliable Theford's Black-Draught.

Traverse City, Mich.—Mrs. J. W. Edwards, of this town, says: "I suffered for about 18 years with liver trouble, and doctored with many different remedies. At last, I was told that an operation was the only thing that would help me, but I heard of Theford's Black-Draught, and took six 25-cent packages and it cured me. I can recommend it to all who suffer from liver troubles."

I have influenced several of my neighbors to take Black-Draught Liver Medicine, and I give it to my grandchildren.

I can safely say that I owe my life to Black-Draught, as it put me on my feet after everything else had failed."

You know that you can depend upon Black-Draught Liver Medicine for quick and permanent relief in all disorders of the liver, stomach and bowels, such as indigestion, constipation, biliousness, headache, sour stomach, tired feeling, and many other common ailments, because, in the past 75 years, it has helped so many thousands of people, whose troubles were similar to these.

Safe, gentle in action, and without bad after-effects, Black-Draught is sure to benefit both young and old. Sold everywhere. 25c a package. Costs only one cent a dose. NCB

ADDITIONAL SOCIETY

One of the most pleasant meetings of the season for the members of the O. N. T. club was the one yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lon Havens in North Main street when eight members of the club were entertained. Halloween was suggested in the appointments of the elegant luncheon which was served.

The members of the "500" Club who were entertained by Mrs. Jesse Poe last evening masked for the affair. One extra table was in play, making, in all, 16 guests. Delicious refreshments were served. Mrs. Mary Wallace, a former member of the club, was among the players. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Fred Boxley.

The social given last evening by the ladies of the Methodist church of Glenwood was a success socially and financially. After the grand march at eight o'clock, when a number of comical costumes were displayed, a short program was given. There was an old fiddler's contest and a solo by O. P. Wamsley of this city. Refreshments were served.

The soft light shed from pumpkin faces disclosed a picture that looked like a field in autumn at the home of Miss Louise Hogsett when she and Miss Aileen Green entertained twenty of their boy and girl friends last evening. Corn shocks and sheaves of oats, surrounded by pumpkins and boughs of autumn leaves gave the home an out-door appearance. Miss Kathleen Hogsett, in gypsy costume acted as fortune teller. Games of all kinds were played and late in the evening refreshments were served. The guests were all masked and a number of elaborate costumes were worn.

CASEY PLANNED TO MAKE HIS ESCAPE

Several Men Have Been Found Who Say he Told Them That he Expected to Leave Here

WAS ON HIS WAY TO DAYTON, O.

Sheriff Cavitt arrived here Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock with Newton Casey, who escaped from jail and was captured at Richmond. Casey did not attempt to explain his action to the sheriff only to say that he had made up his mind to leave Rushville and hoped to reach Dayton, Ohio. Casey stated that he believed if he got there the local officials would not bother to bring him back.

It developed last night that Casey had contemplated his dash for liberty for some time. Several men have been found who state that Casey told them he was going to run away. Casey recently had a suit of clothes cleaned and pressed and he took these from the jail Monday afternoon under the pretense of taking them to the rooms of John Vanatta so as not to be in the dust at the jail. Casey said he left Rushville at 5:30 o'clock Monday afternoon and walked to the edge of the city where he was picked up by an automobile.

The ladies of the St. Paul's M. E. church are requested to come to the church either tomorrow morning or tomorrow afternoon to help in the cleaning of the church. The ladies of the church have taken charge of the fall cleaning and everyone is urged to help.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have.

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, you will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Anarchy in Mexico.

While President Wilson's commissioners are holding solemn confabs with Carranza's representatives at an expensive hotel in Atlantic City, Carranza issues a decree suspending all personal rights throughout the territory controlled by him, and subjecting every person to the danger of immediate execution without trial or right of appeal.

This decree is dated Oct. 9. It recites the fact that anarchy is prevalent throughout Mexico, not even the city of Mexico being safe. Railroads are blown up, cities, towns and hamlets raided and burned, ranches looted, and individuals robbed and murdered. Carranza therefore justified his decree making himself dictator, and suspending all constitutional guarantees. The penalty of death without trial is provided for all persons caught robbing, stealing, burning or committing other crimes; and death is also meted out to accessories after the fact. The sole judges are Carranza's military chieftains. They are not required to hold ever drumhead courts-martial. They may execute any person on the mere charge of crime.

Thus Mexico is acknowledged by the head of the "de facto govern-

IF BACK HURTS
BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush the Kidneys at once when Back-
ache or Bladder bothers—Meat
forms uric acid.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

ment" to have no government at all. The region supposed to be under his control is just as blood-soaked as the regions devastated by Villa and Zapata. No man's life is safe now in any part of Mexico.

Yet the Wilson administration persists in dealing with Carranza's "de facto government" as though it were really de facto and a government, when it is neither. It listens to Carranza's slightest objection to the operation of American troops in protection of American life and property. Carranza, and not Wilson, directs the movements of Gen. Pershing's forces.

The object of the negotiations with Carranza is to withdraw Gen. Pershing's command and turn northern Mexico and the American border over the guardianship of Carranza. Carranza admits that he cannot even persevere order in the City of Mexico, but the Wilson administration pretends to believe that a way can be found for the protection of American lives and property in northern Mexico through Carranza.

Instead of placing the protection of American life and property in the hands of Gen. Funston and Gen. Pershing, the Wilson administration ties their hands. Villa is known to be alive, and there is good reason to believe that Gen. Pershing knows exactly where Villa can be found and captured. But because Carranza objects, Pershing is prevented from executing the errand that took him into Mexico. Meanwhile Carranza makes no efforts to apprehend Villa, and in his decree he admits that northern Mexico is beyond his control.

Another massacre of Americans in northern Mexico is likely to occur at any time, either by Carranza or Villa bandits. Neither the United States government nor Carranza's bogus government is protecting Americans in the interior.

Finly Gray on Force

With all of the far-reaching and weighty questions that confront the people of this nation in the campaign that closes next Tuesday, Finly Gray in his speech here last night laid as much if not more emphasis on his refusal to be forced into voting for a letter carriers' pension bill than he did on any other public question he discussed.

Which brings to mind the question, why he did not touch on the best display of force that has ever been exhibited in any law-making body in the United States—the hold-up of the president of the United States and congress by the representative of 400,000 railway trainmen.

But Mr. Gray voted for the Adamson bill, a measure that was enacted by a democratic congress for political expediency. Yet he comes back to his constituents and last night asked them to vote for him because he refused to be forced by the letter carriers of the United States to vote them a pension.

Congressman Gray evidently held no brief for the Adamson law; therefore he very wisely—the politician that he is—and studiously avoided even mentioning it. He touched on most of the other leading issues of this campaign, but the ramming of the railroad workers' increase-in-pay legislation, under the guise of an 8-hour day law, down the throats of the chosen representatives of the people, as Mr. Gray so much liked to call congress, passed untouched by the eloquence of the congressman from the sixth district.

Charles E. Hughes is a member of the Baptist church; his father was a preacher of that denomination. What would be thought—and said and done—if his campaign managers were to put out "An Appeal to the Baptists of America" urging them to contribute money and other support for Hughes? Can you not imagine the fine rage of the democrats, and how they would revile such an attempt to introduce a religious or sectarian element into politics? Yet three men of Hebrew faith who are concerned in the Wilson campaign management have sent out "An Appeal to the Jews of America" asking for money and other support for Wilson. What about it?

Democratic campaign managers are going to make one more try to capture the German vote. For some months past the Democrats have believed that any attempt in this direction was lost effort, but recently they have come to the conclusion that the failure of Hughes to mention any nation by name, in announcing his "America first" policies has been displeasing to the Germans. The fact that common courtesy, if nothing else, should preclude a presidential candidate from mentioning favorably or otherwise any nation at war seems not to have occurred to the Wilson touts.

By giving free entry to foreign goods manufactured on a wage of twenty-five cents per day, the American workman has the solace of the promise of a cheaper cost of living and, after the war, the loss of his job.

Was it "watchful waiting" to rush through Congress the $50,000,000 ship purchase bill putting the government in competition with, and possibly driving out, private ship-

DRINK HOT TEA
FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus driving a cold from the system.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB BACKACHE AND LUMBAGO RIGHT OUT

Rub Pain and Stiffness away with a small bottle of old honest
St. Jacobs Oil

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a 25 cent bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right into the pain or ache, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the ache and pain right out of your back and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin. Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica and lame back misery so promptly!

Winsome Inconsistency.

President Wilson made the astounding statement in a recent speech dwelling upon American prosperity—that the war had nothing to do with it. He said:

"The men who think this is due merely to the war are merely thinking—they do not know."

In the next sentence of his speech the President exhibited one of his usual lightning changes of position by making this contrary statement:

"If the war goes on another year we probably will have half the gold supply of the world."

Here it is again. "How old is Ann?" The war has nothing to do with American prosperity, yet the war will bring half the gold supply of the world to America, and the prosperity of America is based upon this fact.

The South in the Saddle.

With a population of 20,000,000, one-fifth of the country's people; with a wealth of $250,000,000 one-seventh of the total; with a membership in the House of Representatives of only ninety-seven out of a total of 435 the South, under the Present Democratic Administration is governing the remainder of the country.

Southern men are chairmen of seventeen out of eighteen great House Committees. These committees including Ways and Means, which arranges the tariff, are dominated by Southerners.

Revenues of the eight Southern States that control these seventeen committees amount to $53,000,000 a year. The annual revenue of the State of New York alone is more than $101,000,000.

The South governs, appropriates, and spends the peoples' money.

President Wilson is southern by birth and sympathies. Five members of his Cabinet, Secretary Daniels, Secretary McAdoo, Secretary Houston, Postmaster General Burleson, and Attorney General Gregory are southerners.

Hughes Day.

Hughes Day has not been celebrated yet. November 7 will be Hughes Day, as is clearly indicated by reports coming to the Republican headquarters in this city and to the leading metropolitan dailies from all parts of the country. Summing up the special reports and polls of the political leaders and the newspapers there are just six doubtful states. They are Maryland, West Virginia, Kentucky, Missouri, Oklahoma and Nevada. In the first four the chances appear to stand fifty-fifty, and in the two latter the Democrats have a little the best of it. Ohio, in which there was a temporary swing toward Wilson just after the passage of the Adamson Act has swung into line for Hughes again, since the union men have come to understand more about that law, and since the Chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers has issued his official declaration that now he knows what the law does. Colorado was in the doubtful column, seems to have been transferred to the Hughes column since Col. Roosevelt spoke there. Some of the polls show Nebraska to be doubtful, but confidential reports from there assert that it is quite safely Republican. Of interest in this connection is the poll of Col. George Harvey, one of the shrewdest political observers. He gives Mr. Hughes 269 votes in the electoral college, says he expects Hughes will carry Indiana and Wisconsin 28, believes he will carry Delaware, Ohio and Maryland, 35, gives Wilson 149. Summing up, Col. Harvey makes this prediction. Hughes 338; Wilson 149; doubtful 50. Col. Harvey is of course very conservative.

In the meantime President Wilson appeals feelingly to non-partisans for their support, while his lieutenants continue to break the civil service law to put him across.

away from the people by voting for an amendment to the federal constitution. I am opposed to taking anything away from the people. I voted for the law making the direct election of United States senators." He then explained how he as mayor of Connersville fought for five years to get rid of the canal as a water supply and finally won when he got the people to vote on the question. He said the manufacturers wanted the Taylor system of shop management installed in the government plants and because he refused to vote for it certain Connersville manufacturers wrote him, saying they would act in accordance with his refusal to grant their demands.

"The man who goes to congress must have some stability and a capacity to withstand entreaties," the speaker said.

In closing, the congressman gave his views on preparedness and the Mexican policy. He said there was danger in too little and too much preparedness and declared that he stood for the policy of defense as against world power. The congressman expressed the belief that congress had too much power over war.

Congressman Gray declared that if he had his way, he would not allow congress to declare war except for purposes of defense. For any other sort of a war, he declared, he would leave the question to the vote of the people, and would have every man who voted for war assign himself to a regiment and company at the same time. Likening nations to individuals, he declared the time would come when war should be abandoned as a method of settling disputes just as the duel had been supplanted by the courts to settle individual quarrels. He declared the present war was the best argument against a big army and navy.

"Conditions in Mexico," he continued, "change like a kaleidoscope and policies must change accordingly. This is no time to have war. It is easier to preserve peace with all the world when at peace than when at war."

In closing, he said the best policy was to stay out of the war all together and show the world it is still possible to settle difficulties without going to war.

The congressman did not mention Wilson or any of the slogans which have been coined in his behalf. While discussing preparedness, he neither indorsed nor criticized the preparedness legislation of the congress of which he was a member.

HIGH SCHOOL BOY WRITES ABOUT POLITICS.

W. Wilson aint a man;
He sounds just like an old tin pan.

Worth Careful Thought

Do you read the label to know whether your baking powder is made from cream of tartar or, on the other hand, from alum or phosphate?

Royal Baking Powder is made from cream of tartar, derived from grapes, and adds to the food only wholesome qualities.

Other baking powders contain alum or phosphate, both of mineral origin, and used as substitutes for cream of tartar because of their cheapness.

Never sacrifice quality and healthfulness for low price.

The members of the Cross Country Club gave a pitch-in oyster supper for their families and several friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Harton west of the city last evening. A sumptuous supper was served and a general good time enjoyed.

Fifteen couples, belonging to the Dancing Club at Milroy, enjoyed a Halloween party at the Woodmen hall in Milroy last evening in the form of an informal dance. Mitchell's orchestra of this city played for the affair. The series of dances will continue every two weeks during the winter.

Fourteen ladies were the guests of Miss Lucy Inlow at her home in North Perkins street yesterday afternoon when she entertained the members of the S. E. T. Club. A delightful social afternoon was spent at the conclusion of which dainty refreshments were served. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Vern Norris.

The following ladies left this morning for Indianapolis where they will attend the state federation of clubs for the next few days: Mrs. Guy Abercrombie, Mrs. Ned Abercrombie, Mrs. Ralph Payne, Mrs. Louis C. Lambert, and Mrs. Robert Innis. They are members of the Monday Circle and will represent it at the federation.

The Band of Workers of the First Presbyterian church met with Mrs. F. B. Stearns at her home in West Second street this afternoon when she was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Singer and Mrs. Richter. The penny supper and parcel post sale to be given Friday evening, November 25th, were discussed. Delicious refreshments were served.

The C. W. B. M. of the Ben Davis Creek church met with Mrs. Oscar Rees at her home this afternoon.

Miss Jessie Gillispie and Miss Edith Hogsett attended the luncheon given by the Independent Club of Indiana university at the Claypool hotel in Indianapolis Saturday.

Among those from this city who attended the mask dance given by the Eagles in Connersville were Misses Frances McMahon, Sylvia Lakin, Ethel Oakley, Marcella and Kathleen Coyne, Emaline and Sylvia Wolters, and Laurence and Francis Knecht and Mr. and Mrs. Paul McConnell.

On Monday evening Mrs. Esther McCloud gave an informal little Halloween party complimentary to Mrs. Mary Wallace of Detroit, Mich., who is visiting here. The fourteen guests were pleasantly entertained with games during the evening. In a clever advertising contest, Mrs. Lote Carter proved to be the winner. Appetizing refreshments were served to the guests, all of whom were masked.

A Halloween party and pitch-in supper was given last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Madden. Halloween decorations predominated throughout the home. The guests entertained were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pettis, Mr. and Mrs. Justin Amos, Mrs. John Sumpter and Mrs. Charles Drenon of this city and Mrs. Dora Amos of Indianapolis.

The surprise arranged last evening by Mrs. Silverton Bebout was in honor of her daughter, Helen Bebout, who was greatly surprised to be greeted by a number of her girl friends. The home was decorated with Halloween ideas carried out in an original manner. After an evening spent playing games, and refreshments were served, the guests went on a serenading party. The guests included Elouise Lore, Dorothy Brecheisen, Virginia Haydon, Laura Jordan, Mildred Norris and Lucile Ham.

In connection with the Wednesday Card Club, Mrs. Willard Amos and Miss Mary Amos entertained this afternoon with an informal little card party at their home in North Perkins street when five tables were in play. The tallies and place cards suggested the Halloween season in their design. An elegant luncheon was served, when the dining table was embellished tastefully with a huge bunch of yellow chrysanthemums. Later in the evening, the husbands of twelve of the guests have been invited in for dinner. The next meeting of the card club which was entertained will be with Mrs. Rich Reed.

An unusual party was the one at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Beaver east of the city last evening, when all fifty guests were in some way related. The members of the "Country Cousin's Club" entertained their families and the members of the "City Cousin's Club." With corn stalks, pumpkin faces, and the light covered with red and black paper, an ideal setting was made for the party. The guests did not make themselves known until late in the evening. Short speeches were made by several of the men, the ladies gave readings and musical numbers were furnished. Refreshments of pumpkin pie, ginger cake, coffee and cider were served.

To the surprise of their hostesses, the members of the Psi Iota Xi sorority masked last evening when they were entertained by the Misses Belma Clark and Leah Flint at the home of the former. A number of clever and funny costumes were in evidence. During the business meeting plans to attend the national sorority luncheon in Indianapolis Saturday were discussed. Seven from the local chapter will attend. It was decided to have the next meeting in the form of a pitch-in supper at the home of Miss Helen Scudder on Wednesday evening, November 15th. An elegant luncheon was served to the fourteen guests.

One of the jolliest of the Halloween parties was the progressive one given last evening by Irene Abernathy, Howard Newhouse and William Caldwell for thirty of their boy and girl friends. The little folks had all cleverly concealed their identity with their masks and costumes. At the home of Irene Abernathy, daughter of Mrs. Florence Abernathy, the guests gathered for a short frolic. Mrs. Ben Oster, dressed as a fortune teller and concealed in a booth covered with corn stalks, told fortunes. Light through the home came from grinning pumpkin faces. Next at the home of Howard Newhouse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Newhouse, the guests were ushered into the dining room for the service of Halloween refreshments, consisting of cheese sandwiches, pumpkin pie covered with whipped cream, gingerbread and apples. The dining room was draped with crepe paper on which were the figures of witches and lit by pumpkin faces. The last of the party was at the home of William Caldwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Caldwell. Here, Mildred Newbold won the prize for finding the most beans and Axine Dickman was winner in the contest where, blindfolded, the children cut the string by which a pumpkin face was suspended. Several other Halloween games were played.

One of the gayest Halloween parties of the season was the one enjoyed by the 69 guests attending the Ben Davis C. W. B. M. social for their husbands and families at the hospitable country home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Rees of Gings on Monday evening. The home seemed to be deserted until the front door was opened noiselessly and the guests were confronted by an old witch and ushered into the hall which was lit only by a huge pumpkin face. At the head of the stairs was another pumpkin face which gave such a weird light that one was not surprised to see a skull with a form enveloped in a sheet advancing. And upstairs, another form glided forth and pinned a black cat on each guest. The numbers on these cats were matched on a sheet on the wall from which extended a spider web of strings. The intricate maze of strings led around every conceivable object downstairs, which was lit by the soft light from yellow candles. At a given signal each guest started to wind the ball of string and all of the strings terminated in the dining room, where the elegant supper was served in buffet style. Here witches, astride brooms, were pursued by black cats, all suspended from the yellow paper lattice work over the table. The room, too, was enclosed, in corn stalks. The table

THERE IS NOT A SINGLE, SOLITARY HOUSEWIFE IN RUSHVILLE who would consent to having the fuss and muss of wash-day in her home day after day for 2 solid months.

NO HOUSEWIFE WOULD HAVE a washwoman around for 2 solid months—no housewife would do the job herself—and no husband would let her.

There are 52 washdays in a year—almost 2 solid months of them. What's the difference whether they come all at once or strung out. It's the same job in the end.

was adorned with a lovely bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums, and a pumpkin basket filled with fruit. Instrumental and vocal music featured the social time which the guests enjoyed during the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Morford of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, were among the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Wamsley are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will McKee of New Salem this evening.

Shortly after the members of the W. R. C. penny social had gathered at the home of Mrs. Ellen Wolung for their meeting yesterday afternoon they were surprised to see three masked figures draw up in a taxi and join them at the meeting. Two were dressed as ghosts and another as Miss America. They proved to be Mrs. Selman Webb, Mrs. James Gregg and Miss Eleanor Dudgeon. Yellow and white chrysanthemums, several bouquets of them, decorated the rooms where the ladies were entertained. In the contest for picking up peanuts with a hatpin, Mrs. Francis Walker proved to be the winner; and Mrs. Noley Newkirk won first honors in carrying a pear the farthest on a knife. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, who were Mrs. Rachel Conde, Mrs. Sarah Worthington and Mrs. Cornelia Lyons.

Miss Gladys and Miss Elizabeth Goodbar gave a Halloween party at their home in North Sexton street last evening for a number of their friends. Decorations carried out the idea of the night. Games and music were the amusements of the evening, during which refreshments were served.

The Shakespeare Club will have its first meeting of the season tonight at the home of William E. Wallace, in North Perkins street when the hostesses will be the Misses Letha Denney, Kate Dennis and Nelle Baldwin. A program has been planned on Arnold Bennett.

The members of the K. K. K. Club entertained their boy friends at the home of Miss Rema Offutt with a Halloween party last evening. Ten couples were entertained. Pumpkin faces, fodder, boughs of autumn leaves, strands of yellow and black crepe paper, and shaded candles were the decorations adorning the rooms. The guests were seated at the dining table, where ribbons from each place extended to the pumpkin faces in the center of the table holding a fortune for each guest. A two course supper was served. Dancing and playing games were the diversions of the evening.

Short Cake Any Man Can Make

Fruit is very plentiful this year—of good quality and low in price—the raspberries have not been so sweet and flavored for a number of years. This is practically true of all the fruits—Logan berries, black berries and raspberries eaten either with fresh milk, sugar and cream or in short cake are especially delicious.

While nothing can be more appetizing than the thought of a luscious berry short cake it brings too visions of a hot oven and a hot kitchen. However it would be worth the trouble but we don't have to take it nor bake it—there is a recipe for the most delicious short cake you ever ate and any man can make it—the man that wrote this article has made and eaten many of them and his wife and daughters said they were good, too—use any fruit with it.

Peach Short Cake

8 Holland Rusks ½ Cup Sugar
1 qt. Sliced Peaches Whipped cream

Slice the peaches with a silver knife (or use any seasonable fruit) and add the sugar, more or less will be needed according to the sweetness of the fruit. Allow this to stand to draw out some of the juice. Butter Holland Rusks and place in the oven to heat. Place a rusk on the plate and pour over it some fruit and juice, place a second rusk on top of the fruit and pour over some more fruit and juice. On top of this place a spoon of sweetened whipped cream and place a bit of fruit in this. Serve cold soon after preparing.

Holland Rusk is for sale at most grocers, crisp and fresh, at 10 cents per package. The prudent housewife always keeps them in her pantry to serve with creamed dishes or with fruit. The famous Dutch Windmill Cookies made by the bakers of Holland Rusk are the most delicious cookies you ever tasted. They are only 10 cents and are worth twice that and you will say so when you get them.

G. O. P. FAVORITE IN THE BETTING

Indianapolis Man Wagers $4,000

That James E. Watson Will Defeat Thomas Taggart

GOODRICH STRONG FAVORITE

In Posting Their Bets, Backers of President Demand Odds of 10 to 7 or 8

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 1.—Charles Evans Hughes, republican presidential nominee, and the republican state and senatorial tickets continue the favorites in the betting here as the campaign nears the close. The predictions of the Democratic leaders that President Wilson would be the favorite have not been fulfilled.

The betting is becoming more active on the presidential candidates. Having found that the backers of Wilson are willing to take a risk on him, the republicans have shortened the odds. Hughes was a 10-to-8 favorite yesterday over Wilson in the Indiana election.

There is very little betting that Wilson will carry Indiana. One large bet of $10,000 was made here a few days ago between two Indianapolis business men on the outcome of the presidential race in Indiana. The bet was at even money. Another Indianapolis manufacturer has bet $4,000 that James E. Watson will defeat Senator Thomas Taggart for the short term in the Senate. The same man has $3,000 bet that Hughes will be elected President. Several $1,000 bets on the outcome of the presidential race have been made within the past week.

The betting indicates that the Republican state ticket will go through a heavy favorite over the Democratic candidates. In fact there is practically no betting that James P. Goodrich, Republican nominee for Governor, will not be elected.

BALLOTS HAVE ALL BEEN DISTRIBUTED

Supplies From State Are Now in the Hands of the County Clerks Over State.

FIFTY MEN DID THE WORK

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 1.—Three sample National ballots, three copies of the election laws, three blue pencils and the number of ballots required for each precinct, which must be counted three times, constitute the contents of packages of ballots sent to the ninety-two clerks over the state. Three ropes are tied around each package and three seals are put on, fastening the ropes to the paper.

This is the process that the ballots to be used at the election November 7 are put through before they are handed to the voter. Fifty men were employed in the basement of the state capitol counting, binding, sealing, labelling and distributing the ballots. It took several motor trucks to carry the ballots from the capitol to the trains.

E. F. Donnell, clerk of the state election board, had personal supervision of the distribution of the ballots. The election board is composed of Governor Ralston, Mr. O'Donnell, and two members of the leading political parties.—W. H. Thompson for the Republicans and Reginald Sullivan for the Democrats.

WHAT OF THAT PROMISE TO REDUCE THE COST of LIVING?

Food prices have gone higher, higher, higher under the Democratic regime that promised in its platform lower food prices until now they have mounted to figures that are staggering.

This is the tremendous and almost unbearable price the people are paying for blood-stained, speculative, fictitious "Prosperity" that filches from the average man's pocket-book vastly more than it puts in.

The increase in the cost of living in this country in the past year, like the extravagance of the Democratic Congress, smashes all records, and is bringing hardship into hundreds of thousands of homes. Democrats cannot at once claim credit for the "prosperity" produced by war and at the same time escape responsibility for the increased cost of living by blaming that upon the war.

Commodity prices for 1916, says Bradstreet's financial review, issued September 20th in New York, are going up at an unprecedented rate. For the whole country the price index number, arrived at by totaling the prices per pound of 96 articles of the most common use, was 11.7853 for September 1, 1916, as against 9.8034 for September 1, 1915, and 8.6566 for August 1, 1914—practically the same as on September 1, 1912. In other words, commodities which cost 86 ½ cents in 1914 and 98 cents in 1915, now cost $1.18. Bradstreet's continues:

"It is interesting to note that the breadstuffs group shows a rise of 42 per cent over last year, provisions have risen 26 per cent, hide and leather 21 per cent, and textiles 33 per cent."

Those who go to buy shoes this fall find that shoes that sold last year for $2.50, are now $3.25 or more; $5 shoes are $7 or more. Clothing has gone up 25 per cent, and merchants are unable to get quotations on clothes for delivery next spring, but another hoist of 25% is expected. Calico, linen, poplin, broadcloth, serges, cambric, have gone up from 10 to 50 per cent in price.

Average family is paying terrible price for our blood-stained prosperity!

CHOOSE HUGHES

In increased cost of living the people of the United States are paying three dollars for every dollar of the total exports of the United States and six dollars for every dollar we are to the good as a nation in our transactions with foreign countries. The profits accruing from this vast foreign trade, incident to the European war, go to the fortunate few, while the burdens, becoming almost unbearable, are being heaped upon the backs of the many. And this under an administration which promised to abolish the high cost of living, and which professes attachment to the welfare of the American masses.

KICK THAT BEAT TUFTS HIS BEST TO OPEN BIDS FOR SUBMARINES

Dave Tibbott, Who Won For Princeton, Turned in His Best Effort With That Boot.

IS GOOD AT CRITICAL TIMES

He Was a Substitute Last Year But Was Called Upon Several Times

BY HAMILTON.
(U. F. Staff Correspondent.)
New York, Nov. 1.—Dave Tibbott, who drop-kicked a victory over the Tufts goal in the recent meeting between Princeton and Tufts, turned in the best kick of his somewhat brilliant kicking career that p. m.

Tibbott has been a member of the Princeton team as a substitute back-field man since last season and has been used with great regularity as a drop kicker when critical periods showed up.

In the Tufts game he had made several ineffectual attempts to put over a field goal, but had failed from distances which appeared comparatively easy, with just two minutes left before time would be called Tibbott again was called on, and delivered with a perfect drive from the forty-six yard line sending the ball at least three feet above the cross bar. It was the longest goal he ever made.

The kick was just two yards more of a boot than one of his registered a year ago in the contest with Dartmouth.

Last year Tibbott showed up mightily well as a kicker. Besides turning in the goal in the Dartmouth game Tibbott booted two goals in the game with Syracuse which won the game, one from the forty-three yard line and one from thirty yard line. He also dropped one from the thirty-three yard line in the struggle with Rutgers.

In the Princeton-Harvard game he drop-kicked two goals, one from the thirty yard line, the second from the twenty-five. Tibbott is strictly a drop kicker not a single goal from placement being credited to him.

Navy Department Receives Prices on Four Scout Cruisers and 30 U Boats.

MOST OF THEM OF USUAL TYPE

Several Firms Have Signified Their Intentions of Bidding—All to Have Modern Equipment.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Nov. 1.—The Navy Department today will open bids for four scout cruisers and 30 coast defense submarines.

The scout cruisers, to be known for the present as Nos. 4 to 7 inclusive, will be the largest and fastest vessels of their class built for any navy. Their chief characteristics will be: displacement, 7,000 tons, speed, 35 knots; length 550 feet; beam, 55 feet; armament, eight 6-inch guns, 4 torpedo tubes and two 3-inch anti-aircraft guns; complement, 330.

Their high-powered machinery will be protected by light vertical and horizontal armor. A new feature of these vessels, never incorporated in any ship of a powerful military type will be their complete equipment for carrying, launching of the largest size hydro-aeroplanes.

Twenty-seven of the coast submarines will be of the usual type. They will be known for the present as Nos. 78 to 104 inclusive.

The remaining three, Nos. 105 to 107, will be of a new type, representing a marked increase in size over the usual coast submarine. Each of these three vessels will represent different ideas. It is hoped in their development to arrive at a size of vessel which will be sufficiently large to perform nearly all the duties required of a submarine, but at the same time sufficiently small to be built quickly in large numbers.

Those firms which applied to bid for the scout cruisers are: Bath Iron Works, Fore River Shipbuilding Co., New York Shipbuilding Co., Wm. Cramp & Sons Ship & Engine Building Co., Bethlehem Steel Co., Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co., Union Iron Works Co., and Seattle Construction & Dry Dock Co.

For the submarines the following applied to bid: Electric Boat Co., Lake Torpedo Boat Co., New York Shipbuilding Co., Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co., Union Iron Works Co., and California Shipbuilding Co.

BOTH PLACES IN VERY GOOD SHAPE

County Jail and Poor Asylum Ar. Kept in Fine Condition, According to Report Made.

PUBLISHED IN BULLETIN

The Indiana bulletin of correction and charities contains the following report from the county board of charities, showing that the county jail and poor asylum are kept in good condition.

Poor Asylum—Visited July, 1916. The buildings are old, and it requires more of an effort to keep things looking well than if the structure were modern Everything about the place is well kept and the living apartments frequently scoured and scalded and disinfected. The beds, floors, tables, windows—in fact, everything, was clean. Every room is in good order. No vermin and no flies. The food is substantial, well cooked and plentiful and the inmates are satisfied and contented. Population: 13 men and 5 women. The grounds surrounding the houses are beautiful, with an abundance of shade. Nearly all the inmates were on the lawn under the trees, where seats are provided. Outdoor services are held Sunday afternoons. The lawn is well kept. The garden is free from weeds and in fine condition. There is an abundance of vegetables and berries.

County Jail—Visited July 1916. We were in all the cells in all the departments and found everything clean and white. It is satisfactory in every respect. One prisoner present.

CLAIMS PRISONERS TREATED TO GOOD

Italian Newspapers Demand Stern Treatment For Austrian Captives—Want Fewer Luxuries.

SAY LIMIT HAS BEEN REACHED

(By United Press.) Rome, Italy, Oct. 14.—(By Mail) —"This is the life." This is the joyful song of Italy's Austrian prisoners. At any rate, today's Italian newspapers are saying so emphatically.

"Treat our captives less like our guests," the journals urge on the authorities. As a result, the government shortly will begin the systematic working of its prisoners.

The more than 100,000 Austrians, who are imprisoned in Italy's camps, live on the fat of the land, it is charged. Generally they are passing lives of sunny idleness, living in what is really luxury for wartime.

Recently the newspapers discovered that Austrian officers under Italian escort were visiting gay resorts almost weekly. Then and not until then did the editors cry "halt!" They had bourne with the enemies who had burned the Italian flag in their Gorizia internment camp. They had even kept silent when the colors, opposite the camp, were removed because they were an "eyesore" to the Austrians.

But the limit had been reached at last. So they declare that the Italians must lose their proverbial soft-heartedness. Poverty-stricken mothers of Italy are sending $2 a month and more to feed their starving prisoners sons in Austria, it is alleged. "An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth," the papers demand.

THEY DRIFT MANY MILES.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 1—"When you walk into a spider web floating in the air on an Indian summer day, you have broken the flight of a small aeronautic spider," stated Frank N. Wallace, state entomologist today. "The spider crawls to a high pinnacle weaves a web and lets go. The current of air going upward keeps the web and spider aloft and they have been known to travel more than 200 miles."

You will remember the great Hot Blast Air Tight Florence that was demonstrated in the Centennial parade Friday, Oct. 13, by Mr. J. B. Howard, the inventor. Read what he has to say about it:

Mr. Howard, the inventor, says that with 4 or 5 tons of the poorest and cheapest grade of soft coal you can heat 4 or 5 rooms all winter with a No. 153 Florence, which will produce cleaner results than hard coal in a base burner. The result that you will get with 4 or 5 tons of the poorest soft coal in the Florence, will equal 6 or 7 tons of coal in any other make of stove or furnaces. WATSON SPEAKS HERE ON MONDAY

AT NEWCASTLE THAT NIGHT

Line of Parade for Young Republicans District Meeting Announced—Winchester Girls to Sing

A change in arrangements was made today whereby the people of Rush county will get to hear James E. Watson speak in this city. The plans were so changed that he will speak in Rushville next Monday afternoon at two o'clock at the coliseum.

It has always been customary for Mr. Watson to close the campaign in his home city, but this year the committee told him to speak wherever he believed it would do him the most good, but this did not satisfy Mr. Watson and the afternoon speech in this city was crowded in between a noon meeting at Newcastle and a night meeting in that city.

The parade tomorrow night preceding the rally of the young republicans of the district will form on the east and south sides of the public square. The parade will move promptly at seven-thirty o'clock and every republican of the county is urged to participate. There will be plenty of music and drum corps and red fire. The parade promises to be one of the largest demonstrations of the campaign.

There will be a section of the parade for automobiles. The parade will move around the court house, north in Main street to the Graham Annex auditorium. Word from over the district is encouraging to the local committee and a large crowd is expected. The speaker of the evening is J. O. Batchelor, mayor of Marion and a former progressive.

Definite word was received this afternoon that Miss Vera Mullen and Miss Iris Robinson of Winchester would come and sing at the meeting tomorrow night. They sang campaign songs at the Watson meeting in Richmond a week ago last night and set the crowd wild. In his speech at Richmond, Mr. Watson referred to the two girls as children of his playmates when he was a boy in Winchester.

In securing Mr. Watson it will be necessary to bring him here from Newcastle following a noon factory meeting there and then take him back for a night meeting. The change in arrangements was most pleasing to local people who have depended on hearing Mr. Watson speak this campaign. That Rush county believes in Mr. Watson will be shown Monday afternoon. It is expected the large building will be packed.

Arrangements for the Saturday night rally here, at which time Senator L. Y. Sherman of Illinois, will speak, are going forward. This meeting will in no way interfere with the Watson meeting Monday afternoon.

ELKS TO BRING SHOW HERE

The Round Table Festival company will appear here at the Graham Annex auditorium December 8, under the auspices of the Elks lodge, it was announced today. The company features a Russian dancer and interprets classical dancing.

2 HALLOWEEN ACCIDENTS

(By United Press.)

Kokomo, Ind., Nov. 1.—Clay Hamilton, age 33, shot and killed himself here last night after he had masked as the angel of death for a Halloween party. Lowell Graham, age 7, received fatal burns when a clown suit which he wore caught fire at a Halloween celebration.

MASKED FORMS CROWD STREETS

Rushville People go in For This Feature of Halloween Celebration More Than Ever

FEW PRANKS ARE PLAYED, TOO

After Answering Three False Alarms Fire Department Finally Finds Fire Early Today

The halloween celebration in this city was featured by more masked people than ever before and for several hours last night the downtown streets were crowded with people, dressed in all kinds of costumes. The police report that property damage was kept down to a minimum and while some damage was reported it was not as large as in former years.

The celebration began almost as soon as it was dark. Men, women and children masked and got in the parade. In the resident district the halloween celebrators went into many homes, making short calls. They would walk in the houses, stay a few minutes and without uttering a single word, get up and continue on their way.

The police kept close watch for law violators. Three false alarms was the net result of the law violations as far as the police know. In the past several years the halloween celebrations here have taken on the "safe and sane" appearance, many people masking and last night this idea was carried out more than ever before.

After answering three false alarms, the fire department was called to a fire this morning. The blaze was at the home of Elmer May in West First street and resulted in small damage. The wall paper over a hole in the flue caught fire and for a time the blaze looked dangerous. The department was called but it was not found necessary to throw any water as the family had the fire under control by the time the department arrived.

The halloween jokers played the old false alarm gag over time last night. The police made an effort to locate the persons pulling the boxes but failed to do so. The first alarm came in about eleven o'clock from box No. 42, Fifth and Harrison, and shortly afterward an alarm was sent in from First and Pearl streets. Along about twelve-thirty o'clock another alarm came in from the box at Harrison and Fifth streets.

The city officials consider this a poor halloween prank and would welcome the chance to make an example of someone.

DR. HOWE WILL SPEAK HERE

I. U. English Professor Will Address Teachers Institute

The teachers institute of the Rushville public schools will be held at the Graham high school Saturday, with sessions both morning and afternoon. The papers and speeches heard at the teachers convention in Indianapolis last week, will be discussed by the teachers at the morning session. Dr. William T. Howe, professor of English in Indiana university, will lecture at 1:15 on "Literary Appreciation." He is said to be a very interesting and able speaker and will give a series of talks at the institute for the next six meetings. Everyone is invited to hear his lecture.

A box social, will be given at school No. 10, Rushville township, Friday night.

CHILDREN WILL REMAIN IN HOME

Judge Sparks Decides They are Better Off There and Alfred McDonald Loses Suit

S. & S. O. H. HEAD WINS CASE

Judgment is Rendered by Judge Sparks in Two Account Suits for $86.65 and $113.05

Judge Sparks this morning returned his verdict in the habeas corpus proceedings brought by Alfred McDonald of Connersville against Temple H. Dunn, superintendent of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' home at Knightstown, finding for the defendant and refusing to permit McDonald to have the three children that are now in the home. The costs of the action were assessed against McDonald.

The court stated that in his opinion McDonald offered no inducements as to why he should have the children and believed that for the present at least the children were better off in the home than in his custody. It was brought out in the trial that McDonald had been fined in Anderson for not supporting his children. After this he roamed about the country and his wife finally placed the children in the home. McDonald stated that he has a home for the children, but he is not married and the court believed this kind of a home was not as good as the three children are now receiving.

The suit was brought when the home officials refused to release the children to McDonald. He was formerly employed at the Arbuckle foundry in this city.

The case of Harvey M. Cowing against Thamer McCarty on a note demanding $100, was submitted for trial today and judgment rendered for the plaintiff in the sum of $86.65 and $10 attorney fees.

The suit of Robert L. Tompkins, administrator of the estate of the late John W. Tompkins, against William and Ralph Pitman, father and son, respectively, was also submitted to the court. Judgment was returned against William Pitman in the sum of $113.05 and $10 attorney fees. The court found for the defendant Ralph Pitman, because he is a minor. The suit was on a note in which $175 was demanded.

SHAW MISTAKES THE NAME

Former Secretary of Treasury Disappoints Spiceland Audience

Leslie M. Shaw, secretary of the treasury in President Roosevelt's cabinet, inadvertently went on a "wild goose" chase in Indiana yesterday and as the result an audience at Spiceland was disappointed in not hearing an able discussion of the tariff and other campaign issues. Mr. Shaw was informed that to get to Spiceland he would have to take a train to Newcastle and drive to Spiceland. Instead, he took a train from Indianapolis to Greencastle, going in the opposite direction. The worst part of the error, the republican state central committee asserts, is that this is the third time in the present campaign that the people of Spiceland have been disappointed in a republican speaker. The disappointments were caused through failure to make proper train connections.

SUPPLIES ARE READY

The election inspectors are urged to get their supplies Saturday at the county clerk's office. Clerk Taylor has the supplies all ready to be given out. The inspectors will have to come in person for the supplies as they must sign for them.

SAYS HE WOULD NOT BE FORCED

Congressman Gray Makes Chief Point of Address Out of Letter Carriers' Opposition

NO MENTION OF ADAMSON LAW

Declares Progressive Democrats Enacted Many Reforms Wanted by Republican Progressives

Congressman Finly Gray made his bi-ennial plea last night to the voters of Rushville to be returned to congress next Tuesday. The main plea of his whole speech, in which he gave the reasons why he thought he merited the suffrage of the sixth district, was that he refused to be intimidated by the letter carriers' association and forced into voting for a pension for them.

Congressman Gray read a report of the meeting of the letter carriers' in Indianapolis at which time his position was stated with reference to the pension bill by members from the sixth district, who recommended that he be defeated. He declared that much of the opposition to his candidacy was due to his failure to support their bill.

At the same time, Representative Gray, during his speech made no reference to the Adamson bill, which was forced on congress by the railway trainmen on threat of a strike. Mr. Gray voted for the Adamson bill.

The congressman reviewed what he said were the reform measures which had been enacted by the democratic congress—the same reforms that the progressive republicans and progressive democrats had been fighting for many years.

"The progressive democrats succeeded in gaining control of their party organization and enacted these reforms," he declared, "and progressive republicans failed after a 16-year fight because there was more resistance in their party than in the democratic party."

The representative gave as a reason for the dissemination of the progressive party the fact that the democratic party had enacted into law all the reforms for which it stood and there was no longer any reason for its existence.

The reform measures which he outlined as those demanded by the progressives and enacted into law by the democratic congress were: the abolishment of the rule by which the speaker of the house appointed all committees, thus making the house committees more responsive to the will of the representatives of the people; direct election of United States senators; income tax, non-partisan tariff commission, currency law, child labor law.

"Self defense is the first law of nature and I seem to be following in that line," said the congressman when he launched into the personal appeal for votes.

"It is not easy to serve all the people; there are always a few men who want special favors without regard to the many and who threaten, with their power, to enforce what they call their rights."

It was at this point that Congressman Gray referred to the opposition to his candidacy by the letter carriers. He said he believed his political success is due to the fact that he has deserved the support of the people. The representative recalled that the letter carriers' pension was indorsed by the St. Louis convention, but that he repudiated that plank.

"It is not always easy to preserve the power of the people," he continued. "I have every respect for the power of my friend, the woman suffragist. So far as the abstract principle is concerned, it is all right, but they ask me to take the question

LOCAL BETTING FAVORS G. O. P.

Democratic Money is Very Scarce Over $1,600 in Wagers on Republicans Being Untouched

2 TO 1 ON D. W. COMSTOCK

Local Republicans, Failing to Get Action, Take $1,150 in Even Money at Connersville

Betting on the boards in Rushville continues to favor the republicans, both on the outcome of the national and county elections. In fact, democratic money is very scarce, very few bets being taken. Local men have even taken their money to Connersville in order to secure action and there the betting is favorable to the republicans.

On one board in this city a total of $1,600 that the republican candidates will be elected remains untaken. Several bets at $100 even money that Watson will beat Taggart have been taken and there are ten times as many bets, in small sums, that Hughes will carry Indiana and be elected that are not taken.

The betting is even money on the presidential and senatorial races. Judge Comstock continues to rule the favorite over Finly Gray in the congressional outcome. The prevailing odds are 2 to 1 that Comstock will win. Many of the bets are $50 to $25 that the Richmond man will win his race.

Democratic confidence in Rush county is not being backed by money indicating that they have about given up hope. This applies to the county ticket as well. There are many bets that the entire republican county ticket will be elected. There are several bets of $25 even money that McMillin, Jones and Moore, all on the republican ticket, will be elected.

There are several bets that James E. Watson will receive a plurality of 300 in Rush county and none of these is taken. One bet of $500 that Hughes will be elected has been taken near Carthage.

At Connersville within the past two days four bets of $1,000 each were posted and taken on the result of the presidential outcome. These bets were no more than taken until another $1,000 was offered that Hughes would be elected. Late yesterday this bet remained untaken. Local men secured a total of $1,150 at Connersville one day this week.

The betting on the election, considered by many a barometer on the sentiment, has been brisk all over the country. In Wall street yesterday the odds again switched to 10 to 8 in favor of Hughes.

ISABELLE D. FRY IS DEAD

Widow of Late James P. Fry Expires at Home North of City

Mrs. Isabelle D. Fry, 91 years old, widow of the late James P. Fry, died yesterday afternoon shortly after 3 o'clock at her home north of the city. Mrs. Fry had been ill for some time suffering from a complication of diseases and senility and her death was not unexpected. Mrs. Fry had been a resident of this county for a number of years. She was the last of six children and was born Mar. 7, 1925. She was married to James Fry in 1841. There was no family. The funeral services will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock at the late residence by the Rev. C. M. Yocum and burial will take place in East Hill cemetery.

A marriage license was issued this afternoon to Frank McMichael and Nina P. Wertz.

BORDER LIFE IS DESCRIBED

William Ochiltree of Connersville, Home on Furlough, Talks to High School Today

IDEAS ON PREPAREDNESS

Believes Young Americans Should be Forced to Spend One Year in Military Training

Conditions on the Mexican border were described in an interesting way by William Ochiltree before the local high school this morning. Too, he gave a plea for universal preparedness both in military training and equipment, which he said the late trouble has shown the need of. Mr. Ochiltree, of Connersville Ind., is home on a furlough and will return Sunday to Llano Grande, where he is serving in the army.

He dealt first with the geographical conditions there, telling of some of the hardships the American boys had had to suffer because of the climate. It was necessary to put drainage in all of the tents because they arrived there during the rainy season. He mentioned facts, unusual ones, about the plants they had seen and the trouble that mosquitoes and tarantulas had caused.

The inside life of the soldiers was brought out in his short stories about his experiences as a commissary sergeant, for as such Mr. Ochiltree has been serving. From his summary of the daily routine of the soldiers, drill and hikes took a good part of the day. His plea for universal preparedness was based on the response of young men to arms and the equipment which awaited them.

In his mind, the need of preparedness can best be met by forcing Americans to devote one year of their time between the ages of 18 and 25 to military training and then at any time war should come, there will be a ready response of trained soldiers.

He advocates, too, that the country should have equipment ready for any emergency. Waiting for equipment, the soldiers had met many inconveniences. The immediate response of young Americans to the call to arms, he said, proved that a standing army could be obtained at any time, but the value of this would be multiplied by training and equipment.

HUGHES TALKS IN CONFIDENT STRAIN

Says at Sullivan Today That He Has Felt in These Days a Growing Sentiment.

PEOPLE ARE ALWAYS RIGHT

(By United Press.)

Sullivan, Ind., Nov. 1.—"You can be sure that in the long run the American people do not make any mistakes in respect to what is necessary to their prosperity and the future of the country and I have felt in these days a growing sentiment," was the confident note sounded here today by Republican nominee Hughes in addressing a crowd of 2,000 persons. He spoke also of a firm and unyielding policy for maintenance of just rights. Continuing in his strain of prophecy and confidence as to the outcome, the nominee declared:

"There has been a very perceptible current of opinion. It gives me assurance that the American people have been sifting the various claims made and have been coming to their own conclusions. They know perfectly well that we are now in a very unsatisfactory condition."

A REMARKABLE STATEMENT

Mrs. Sheldon Spent $1900 for Treatment Without Benefit. Finally Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Englewood, Ill. — "While going through the Change of Life I suffered with headaches, nervousness, flashes of heat, and I suffered so much I did not know what I was doing at times. I spent $1900 on doctors and not one did me any good. One day a lady called at my house and said she had been as sick as I was at one time, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made her well, so I took it and now I am just as well as I ever was. I cannot understand why women don't see how much pain and suffering they would escape by taking your medicine. I cannot praise it enough for it saved my life and kept me from the Insane Hospital." — Mrs. E. SHELDON, 5657 S. Halsted St., Englewood, Ill.

Physicians undoubtedly did their best, but with this case steadily and could do no more, but often the most scientific treatment is surpassed by the medicinal properties of the good old fashioned roots and herbs contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If any complication exists it pays to write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special free advice.

SUBMARINE ISSUE LOOMS UP AGAIN

With Five Americans Dead as Result of Sinking of Marina, Situation is Fraught With Danger

POLITICS NOT TO INTERFERE

(By United Press.)

Washington, Nov. 1.—The situation growing out of the sinking of the steamer Marina by a German submarine today loomed up as an issue fraught with the most serious possibilities since the torpedoing of the Sussex.

With five Americans believed to be dead as the result of the sinking of the British steamer and no evidence yet to show that the submarine gave them a chance for their lives, the situation has become extremely grave.

Germany has been asked for the submarine commander's report of the affair while the United States consular and diplomatic representatives near the scene have been directed to forward by cable all information that can be found.

Secretary of State Lansing today vigorously denied that the campaign will have any effect on the department's action in the Marina case or that there has been any change in the submarine policy of either the president or his department. Lansing said he made this statement after it was called to his attention that such a suggestion had been made.

WATSON LEADS IN WAYNE STRAW VOTE

Senatorial Candidate Ahead of Other Three in Poll Being Taken by the Palladium.

LEADS TAGGART IN INDIANA

As a testimonial that the reception given James E. Watson a week ago last night in Richmond will be backed up by the voters of Wayne county may be cited the straw vote which is being taken by the Richmond Palladium, an independent newspaper, in Wayne county. In the ballots announced yesterday, Mr. Watson led the senatorial candidates with 967 votes and Harry New was next with 831. Taggart and Kern the democratic candidates, have 640 and 539 respectively. Watson's vote has been gaining more each day than any of the other senatorial candidates. Hughes has 1100 votes to Wilson's 826.

Watson is more than 400 votes ahead of his opponent in the Cincinnati Enquirer poll, which includes all of Indiana. He has 2,492 to date, as against 2,026 for Taggart. New has 2,661 to Kern's 2,296. Hughes is leading Wilson in the Enquirer poll 3,469 to 2,870. Watson led yesterday in the vote taken at the Haynes-Stellite company's plant in Kokomo.

German Subsea Freighter Makes Second Voyage, Landing at New London, Conn., Today

TWENTY-ONE DAYS AT SEA

(By United Press.)

New London, Conn., Nov. 1.—Safe from Atlantic perils after buffeting in rough gales, the German sub-sea freighter docked here early today on her second American voyage.

Twenty-one days out from Bremen, she arrived shortly after midnight with her crew of 25, healthy, and her valued cargo intact.

During the forenoon the crew remained aboard the submarine, many of them sleeping while Captain Koenig conferred with officials of the Eastern Forwarding company.

No time will be lost in unloading her precious cargo, said to include valuable drugs and rare medicines shut off from America by the war. Her whole cargo is said to be valued at about $1,000,000 and she will take back a cargo of nickel and rubber of nearly equal value to use in hospitals and for munitions. In addition it is understood she carried diplomatic mail for Ambassador Von Bernstorff.

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How To Open Clogged Nostrils and End Head-Colds.

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache, no hawking, snuffling, mucous discharges or dryness; no struggling for breath at night. Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly. It is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer needs. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable.

18 YEARS OF LIVER TROUBLE

Finally Relieved by the Old Reliable Thedford's Black-Draught.

Traverse City, Mich.—Mrs. J. W. Edwards, of this town, says: "I suffered for about 18 years with liver trouble, and doctored with many different remedies. At last, I was told that an operation was the only thing that would help me, but I heard of Thedford's Black-Draught, and took six 25-cent packages and it cured me. I can recommend it to all who suffer from liver troubles."

I have influenced several of my neighbors to take Black-Draught Liver Medicine, and I give it to my grandchildren.

I can safely say that I owe my life to Black-Draught, as it put me on my feet after everything else had failed.

You know that you can depend upon Black-Draught Liver Medicine for quick and permanent relief in all disorders of the liver, stomach and bowels, such as indigestion, constipation, biliousness, headache, sour stomach, tired feeling, and many other common ailments, because, in the past 75 years, it has helped so many thousands of people, whose troubles were similar to these.

Safe, gentle in action, and without bad after-effects, Black-Draught is sure to benefit both young and old. Sold everywhere. 25c a package. Costs only one cent a dose. NCB

ADDITIONAL SOCIETY

One of the most pleasant meetings of the season for the members of the O. N. T. club was the one yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lon Havens in North Main street when eight members of the club were entertained. Halloween was suggested in the appointments of the elegant luncheon which was served.

The members of the "500" Club who were entertained by Mrs. Jesse Poe last evening masked for the affair. One extra table was in play, making, in all, 16 guests. Delicious refreshments were served. Mrs. Mary Wallace, a former member of the club, was among the players. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Fred Boxley.

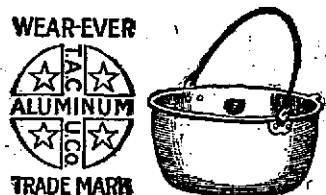

The social given last evening by the ladies of the Methodist church of Glenwood was a success socially and financially. After the grand march at eight o'clock, when a number of comical costumes were displayed, a short program was given. There was an old fiddler's contest and a solo by O. P. Wamsley of this city. Refreshments were served.

The soft light shed from pumpkin faces disclosed a picture that looked like a field in autumn at the home of Miss Louise Hogsett when she and Miss Aileen Green entertained twenty of their boy and girl friends last evening. Corn shocks and sheaves of oats, surrounded by pumpkins and boughs of autumn leaves gave the home an out-door appearance. Miss Kathleen Hogsett, in gypsy costume acted as fortune teller. Games of all kinds were played and late in the evening refreshments were served. The guests were all masked and a number of elaborate costumes were worn.

CASEY PLANNED TO MAKE HIS ESCAPE

Several Men Have Been Found Who Say he Told Them That he Expected to Leave Here

WAS ON HIS WAY TO DAYTON, O.

Sheriff Cavitt arrived here Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock with Newton Casey, who escaped from jail and was captured at Richmond. Casey did not attempt to explain his action to the sheriff only to say that he had made up his mind to leave Rushville and hoped to reach Dayton, Ohio. Casey stated that he believed if he got there the local officials would not bother to bring him back.

It developed last night that Casey had contemplated his dash for liberty for some time. Several men have been found who state that Casey told them he was going to run away. Casey recently had a suit of clothes cleaned and pressed and he took these from the jail Monday afternoon under the pretense of taking them to the rooms of John Vanatta so as not to be in the dust at the jail. Casey said he left Rushville at 5:30 o'clock Monday afternoon and walked to the edge of the city where he was picked up by an automobile.

The ladies of the St. Paul's M. E. church are requested to come to the church either tomorrow morning or tomorrow afternoon to help in the cleaning of the church. The ladies of the church have taken charge of the fall cleaning and everyone is urged to help.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes
—Most Women Can Have.

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known
Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, you will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Anarchy in Mexico.

While President Wilson's commissioners are holding solemn confabs with Carranza's representatives at an expensive hotel in Atlantic City, Carranza issues a decree suspending all personal rights throughout the territory controlled by him, and subjecting every person to the danger of immediate execution without trial or right of appeal.

This decree is dated Oct. 9. It recites the fact that anarchy is prevalent throughout Mexico, not even the city of Mexico being safe. Railroads are blown up, cities, towns and hamlets raided and burned, ranches looted, and individuals robbed and murdered. Carranza therefore justified his decree making himself dictator, and suspending all constitutional guarantees. The penalty of death without trial is provided for all persons caught robbing, stealing, burning or committing other crimes; and death is also meted out to accessories after the fact. The sole judges are Carranza's military chieftains. They are not required to hold ever drumhead courts-martial. They may execute any person on the mere charge of crime.

Thus Mexico is acknowledged by the head of the "de facto government" to have no government at all. The region supposed to be under his control is just as blood-soaked as the regions devastated by Villa and Zapata. No man's life is safe now in any part of Mexico.

Yet the Wilson administration persists in dealing with Carranza's "de facto government" as though it were really de facto and a government, when it is neither. It listens to Carranza's slightest objection to the operation of American troops in protection of American life and property. Carranza, and not Wilson, directs the movements of Gen. Pershing's forces.

The object of the negotiations with Carranza is to withdraw Gen. Pershing's command and turn northern Mexico and the American border over the guardianship of Carranza. Carranza admits that he cannot even persevere order in the City of Mexico, but the Wilson administration pretends to believe that a way can be found for the protection of American lives and property in northern Mexico through Carranza.

Instead of placing the protection of American life and property in the hands of Gen. Funston and Gen. Pershing, the Wilson administration ties their hands. Villa is known to be alive, and there is good reason to believe that Gen. Pershing knows exactly where Villa can be found and captured. But because Carranza objects, Pershing is prevented from executing the errand that took him into Mexico. Meanwhile Carranza makes no efforts to apprehend Villa, and in his decree he admits that northern Mexico is beyond his control.

Another massacre of Americans in northern Mexico is likely to occur at any time, either by Carranza or Villa bandits. Neither the United States government nor Carranza's bogus government is protecting Americans in the interior.

Finly Gray on Force

With all of the far-reaching and weighty questions that confront the people of this nation in the campaign that closes next Tuesday, Finly Gray in his speech here last night laid as much if not more emphasis on his refusal to be forced into voting for a letter carriers' pension bill than he did on any other public question he discussed.

Which brings to mind the question, why he did not touch on the best display of force that has ever been exhibited in any law-making body in the United States—the hold-up of the president of the United States and congress by the representative of 400,000 railway trainmen.

But Mr. Gray voted for the Adamson bill, a measure that was enacted by a democratic congress for political expediency. Yet he comes back to his constituents and last night asked them to vote for him because he refused to be forced by the letter carriers of the United States to vote them a pension.

Congressman Gray evidently held no brief for the Adamson law; therefore he very wisely—the politician that he is—and studiously avoided even mentioning it. He touched on most of the other leading issues of this campaign, but the ramming of the railroad workers' increased-in-pay legislation, under the guise of an 8-hour day law, down the throats of the chosen representatives of the people, as Mr. Gray so much liked to call congress, passed untouched by the eloquence of the congressman from the sixth district.

Charles E. Hughes is a member of the Baptist church; his father was a preacher of that denomination. What would be thought—and said and done—if his campaign managers were to put out "An Appeal to the Baptists of America" urging them to the Baptists of America" urging them to contribute money and other support for Hughes? Can you not imagine the fine rage of the democrats, and how they would revile such an attempt to introduce a religious or sectarian element into politics? Yet three men of Hebrew faith who are concerned in the Wilson campaign management have sent out "An Appeal to the Jews of America" asking for money and other support for Wilson. What about it?

Democratic campaign managers are going to make one more try to capture the German vote. For some months past the Democrats have believed that any attempt in this direction was lost effort, but recently they have come to the conclusion that the failure of Hughes to mention any nation by name, in announcing his "America first" policies has been displeasing to the Germans. The fact that common courtesy, if nothing else, should preclude a presidential candidate from mentioning favorably or otherwise any nation at war seems not to have occurred to the Wilson touts.

By giving free entry to foreign goods manufactured on a wage of twenty-five cents per day, the American workman has the solace of the promise of a cheaper cost of living and, after the war, the loss of his job.

Was it "watchful waiting" to rush through Congress the $50,000,000 ship purchase bill putting the government in competition with, and possibly driving out, private ship-

IF BACK HURTS
BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush the Kidneys at once when Back-
ache or Bladder bothers—Meat
forms uric acid.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

DRINK HOT TEA
FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoon full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus driving a cold from the system.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

LUMBAGO RIGHT OUT

Rub Pain and Stiffness away with a small bottle of old honest
St. Jacobs Oil

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a 25 cent bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right into the pain or ache, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the ache and pain right out of your back and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica and lame back misery so promptly!

Winsome Inconsistency.

President Wilson made the astounding statement in a recent speech dwelling upon American prosperity—that the war had nothing to do with it. He said:

"The men who think this is due merely to the war are merely thinking—they do not know."

In the next sentence of his speech the President exhibited one of his usual lightning changes of position by making this contrary statement:

"If the war goes on another year we probably will have half the gold supply of the world."

Here it is again. "How old is Ann." The war has nothing to do with American prosperity, yet the war will bring half the gold supply of the world to America, and the prosperity of America is based upon this fact.

The South in the Saddle.

With a population of 20,000,000, one-fifth of the country's people; with a wealth of $250,000,000 one-seventh of the total; with a membership in the House of Representatives of only ninety-seven out of a total of 435 the South, under the Present Democratic Administration is governing the remainder of the country.

Southern men are chairmen of seventeen out of eighteen great House Committees. These committees including Ways and Means, which arranges the tariff, are dominated by Southerners.

Revenues of the eight Southern States that control these seventeen committees amount to $53,000,000 a year. The annual revenue of the State of New York alone is more than $101,000,000.

The South governs, appropriates, and spends the peoples' money.

President Wilson is southern by birth and sympathies. Five members of his Cabinet, Secretary Daniels, Secretary McAdoo, Secretary Houston, Postmaster General Burleson, and Attorney General Gregory are southerners.

Hughes Day.

Hughes Day has not been celebrated yet. November 7 will be Hughes Day, as is clearly indicated by reports coming to the Republican headquarters in this city and to the leading metropolitan dailies from all parts of the country. Summing up the special reports and polls of the political leaders and the newspapers there are just six doubtful states. They are Maryland, West Virginia, Kentucky, Missouri, Oklahoma and Nevada. In the first four the chances appear to stand fifty-fifty, and in the two latter the Democrats have a little the best of it. Ohio, in which there was a temporary swing toward Wilson just after the passage of the Adamson Act, has swung into line for Hughes again, since the union men have come to understand more about that law, and since the Chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers has issued his official declaration that now he knows what the law does. Colorado was in the doubtful column, seems to have been transferred to the Hughes column since Col. Roosevelt spoke there. Some of the polls show Nebraska to be doubtful, but confidential reports from there assert that it is quite safely Republican. Of interest in this connection is the poll of Col. George Harvey, one of the shrewdest political observers. He gives Mr. Hughes 269 votes in the electoral college, says he expects Hughes will carry Indiana and Wisconsin 28, believes he will carry Delaware, Ohio and Maryland, 35, gives Wilson 149. Summing up, Col. Harvey makes this prediction. Hughes 338; Wilson 149; doubtful 50. Col. Harvey is of course very conservative.

In the meantime President Wilson appeals feelingly to non-partisans for their support, while his lieutenants continue to break the civil service law to put him across.

away from the people by voting for an amendment to the federal constitution. I am opposed to taking anything away from the people. I voted for the law making the direct election of United States senators." He then explained how he as mayor of Connersville fought for five years to get rid of the canal as a water supply and finally won when he got the people to vote on the question. He said the manufacturers wanted the Taylor system of shop management installed in the government plants and because he refused to vote for it certain Connersville manufacturers wrote him, saying they would act in accordance with his refusal to grant their demands.

"The man who goes to congress must have some stability and a capacity to withstand entreaties," the speaker said.

In closing, the congressman gave his views on preparedness and the Mexican policy. He said there was danger in too little and too much preparedness and declared that he stood for the policy of defense as against world power. The congressman expressed the belief that congress had too much power over war.

Congressman Gray declared that if he had his way, he would not allow congress to declare war except for purposes of defense. For any other sort of a war, he declared, he would leave the question to the vote of the people, and would have every man who voted for war assign himself to a regiment and company at the same time. Likening nations to individuals, he declared the time would come when war should be abandoned as a method of settling disputes just as the duel had been supplanted by the courts to settle individual quarrels. He declared the present war was the best argument against a big army and navy.

"Conditions in Mexico," he continued, "change like a kaleidoscope and policies must change accordingly. This is no time to have war. It is easier to preserve peace with all the world when at peace than when at war."

In closing, he said the best policy was to stay out of the war all together and show the world it is still possible to settle difficulties without going to war.

The congressman did not mention Wilson or any of the slogans which have been coined in his behalf. While discussing preparedness, he neither indorsed nor criticized the preparedness legislation of the congress of which he was a member.

Worth Careful Thought

Do you read the label to know whether your baking powder is made from cream of tartar or, on the other hand, from alum or phosphate?

Royal Baking Powder is made from cream of tartar, derived from grapes, and adds to the food only wholesome qualities.

Other baking powders contain alum or phosphate, both of mineral origin, and used as substitutes for cream of tartar because of their cheapness.

Never sacrifice quality and healthfulness for low price.

The members of the Cross Country Club gave a pitch-in oyster supper

for their families and several friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Harton west of the city last evening. A sumptuous supper was served and a general good time enjoyed.

Fifteen couples, belonging to the Dancing Club at Milroy, enjoyed a Halloween party at the Woodmen hall in Milroy last evening in the form of an informal dance. Mitchell's orchestra of this city played for the affair. The series of dances will continue every two weeks during the winter.

Fourteen ladies were the guests of Miss Lucy Inlow at her home in North Perkins street yesterday afternoon when she entertained the members of the S. E. T. Club. A delightful social afternoon was spent at the conclusion of which dainty refreshments were served. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Vern Norris.

The following ladies left this morning for Indianapolis where they will attend the state federation of clubs for the next few days: Mrs. Guy Abercrombie, Mrs. Ned Abercrombie, Mrs. Ralph Payne, Mrs. Louis C. Lambert, and Mrs. Robert Innis. They are members of the Monday Circle and will represent it at the federation.

The Band of Workers of the First Presbyterian church met with Mrs. F. B. Stearns at her home in West Second street this afternoon when she was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Singer and Mrs. Richter. The penny supper and parcel post sale to be given Friday evening, November 25th, were discussed. Delicious refreshments were served.

The C. W. B. M. of the Ben Davis Creek church met with Mrs. Oscar Rees at her home this afternoon.

Miss Jessie Gillispie and Miss Edith Hogsett attended the luncheon given by the Independent Club of Indiana university at the Claypool hotel in Indianapolis Saturday.

Among those from this city who attended the mask dance given by the Eagles in Connersville were Misses Frances McMahon, Sylvia Lakin, Ethel Oakley, Marcella and Kathleen Coyne, Emaline and Sylvia Walters, and Laurence and Francis Knecht and Mr. and Mrs. Paul McConnell.

On Monday evening Mrs. Esther McCloud gave an informal little Halloween party complimentary to Mrs. Mary Wallace of Detroit, Mich., who is visiting here. The fourteen guests were pleasantly entertained with games during the evening. In a clever advertising contest, Mrs. Lote Carter proved to be the winner. Appetizing refreshments were served to the guests, all of whom were masked.

A Halloween party and pitch-in supper was given last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Madden. Halloween decorations predominated throughout the home. The guests entertained were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pettis, Mr. and Mrs. Justin Amos, Mrs. John Sumpter and Mrs. Charles Drenon of this city and Mrs. Dora Amos of Indianapolis.

The surprise arranged last evening by Mrs. Silverton Bebout was in honor of her daughter, Helen Bebout, who was greatly surprised to be greeted by a number of her girl friends. The home was decorated with Halloween ideas carried out in an original manner. After an evening spent playing games, and refreshments were served, the guests went on a serenading party. The guests included Eloise Lore, Dorothy Brecheisen, Virginia Haydon, Laura Jordan, Mildred Norris and Lucile Ham.

In connection with the Wednesday Card Club, Mrs. Willard Amos and Miss Mary Amos entertained this afternoon with an informal little card party at their home in North Perkins street when five tables were in play. The tables and place cards suggested the Halloween season in their design. An elegant luncheon was served, when the dining table was embellished tastefully with a huge bunch of yellow chrysanthemums. Later in the evening, the husbands of twelve of the guests have been invited in for dinner. The next meeting of the card club which was entertained will be with Mrs. Rich Reed.

An unusual party was the one at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Beaver east of the city last evening, when all fifty guests were in some way related. The members of the "Country Cousin's Club" entertained their families and the members of the "City Cousin's Club." With corn stalks, pumpkin faces, and the light covered with red and black paper, an ideal setting was made for the party. The guests did not make themselves known until late in the evening. Short speeches were made by several of the men, the ladies gave readings and musical numbers were furnished. Refreshments of pumpkin pie, ginger cake, coffee and cider were served.

To the surprise of their hostesses, the members of the Psi Iota Xi sorority masked last evening when they were entertained by the Misses Belna Clark and Leah Flint at the home of the former. A number of clever and funny costumes were in evidence. During the business meeting plans to attend the national sorority luncheon in Indianapolis Saturday were discussed. Seven from the local chapter will attend. It was decided to have the next meeting in the form of a pitch-in supper at the home of Miss Helen Scudder on Wednesday evening, November 15th. An elegant luncheon was served to the fourteen guests.

One of the jolliest of the Halloween parties was the progressive one given last evening by Irene Abernathy, Howard Newhouse and Wil-

William Caldwell for thirty of their boy and girl friends. The little folks had all cleverly concealed their identity with their masks and costumes. At the home of Irene Abernathy, daughter of Mrs. Florence Abernathy, the guests gathered for a short frolic. Mrs. Ben Oster, dressed as a fortune teller and concealed in a booth covered with corn stalks, told fortunes. Light through the home came from grinning pumpkin faces. Next at the home of Howard Newhouse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Newhouse, the guests were ushered into the dining room for the service of Halloween refreshments, consisting of cheese sandwiches, pumpkin pie covered with whipped cream, gingerbread and apples. The dining room was draped with crepe paper on which were the figures of witches and lit by pumpkin faces. The last of the party was at the home of William Caldwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Caldwell. Here, Mildred Newbold won the prize for finding the most beans and Axine Dickman was winner in the contest where, blindfolded, the children cut the string by which a pumpkin face was suspended. Several other Halloween games were played.

One of the gayest Halloween parties of the season was the one enjoyed by the 69 guests attending the Ben Davis C. W. B. M. social for their husbands and families at the hospitable country home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Rees of Gings on Monday evening. The home seemed to be deserted until the front door was opened noiselessly and the guests were confronted by an old witch and ushered into the hall which was lit only by a huge pumpkin face. At the head of the stairs was another pumpkin face which gave such a weird light that one was not surprised to see a skull with a form enveloped in a sheet advancing. And upstairs, another form glided forth and pinned a black cat on each guest. The numbers on these cats were matched on a sheet on the wall from which extended a spider web of strings. The intricate maze of strings led around every conceivable object downstairs, which was lit by the soft light from yellow candles. At a given signal each guest started to wind the ball of string and all of the strings terminated in the dining room, where the elegant supper was served in buffet style. Here witches, astride brooms, were pursued by black cats, all suspended from the yellow paper lattice work over the table. The room, too, was enclosed in corn stalks. The table was adorned with a lovely bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums, and a pumpkin basket filled with fruit. Instrumental and vocal music featured the social time which the guests enjoyed during the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Morford of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, were among the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Wamsley are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will McKee of New Salem this evening.

Shortly after the members of the W. R. C. penny social had gathered at the home of Mrs. Ellen Wollung for their meeting yesterday afternoon they were surprised to see three masked figures draw up in a taxi and join them at the meeting. Two were dressed as ghosts and another as Miss America. They proved to be Mrs. Selman Webb, Mrs. James Gregg and Miss Eleanor Dudgeon. Yellow and white chrysanthemums, several bouquets of them, decorated the rooms where the ladies were entertained. In the contest for picking up peanuts with a hatpin, Mrs. Francis Walker proved to be the winner, and Mrs. Noley Newkirk won first honors in carrying a pear the farthest on a knife. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, who were Mrs. Rachel Conde, Mrs. Sarah Worthington and Mrs. Cornelia Lyons.

The Shakespeare Club will have its first meeting of the season tonight at the home of William E. Wallace, in North Perkins street when the hostesses will be the Misses Letha Denny, Kate Dennis and Nelle Baldwin. A program has been planned on Arnold Bennett.

The members of the K. K. K. Club entertained their boy friends at the home of Miss Rema Offutt with a Halloween party last evening. Ten couples were entertained. Pumpkin faces, fodder, boughs of autumn leaves, strands of yellow and black crepe paper, and shaded candles were the decorations adorning the rooms. The guests were seated at the dining table, where ribbons from each place extended to the pumpkin faces in the center of the table holding a fortune for each guest. A two course supper was served. Dancing and playing games were the diversions of the evening.

Short Cake Any Man Can Make

Fruit is very plentiful this year—of good quality and low in price—the raspberries have not been so sweet and flavored for a number of years. This is practically true of all the fruits—Logan berries, black berries and raspberries eaten either with fresh milk, sugar and cream or in short cake are especially delicious.

While nothing can be more appetizing than thoughts of a luscious berry short cake it brings too visions of a hot oven and a hot kitchen. However it would be worth the trouble but we don't have to take it nor bake it—there is a recipe for the most delicious short cake you ever ate and any man can make it—the man that wrote this article has made and eaten many of them and his wife and daughters said they were good, too—use any fruit with it.

Peach Short Cake

8 Holland Rusks ½ Cup Sugar
1 qt. Sliced Peaches Whipped cream
Slice the peaches with a silver knife (or use any reasonable fruit) and add the sugar, more or less will be needed according to the sweetness of the fruit. Allow this to stand to draw out some of juice. Butter Holland Rusks and place in the oven to heat. Place a Rusk on the plate and pour over it some fruit and juice, place a second Rusk on top of the fruit and pour over some more fruit and juice. On top of this place a spoon of sweetened whipped cream and place a bit of fruit in this. Serve cold soon after preparing.

Holland Rusk is for sale at most grocers, crisp and fresh, at 10 cents per package. The prudent housewife always keeps them in her pantry to serve with creamed dishes or with fruit. The famous Dutch Windmill Cookies made by the bakers of Holland Rusk are the most delicious cookies you ever tasted. They are only 10 cents and are worth twice that and you will say so when you get them.

G. O. P. FAVORITE IN THE BETTING

Indianapolis Man Wagers $4,000

That James E. Watson Will Defeat Thomas Taggart

GOODRICH STRONG FAVORITE

In Posting Their Bets, Backers of President Demand Odds of 10 to 7 or 8

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 1.—Charles Evans Hughes, republican presidential nominee, and the republican state and senatorial tickets continue the favorites in the betting here as the campaign nears the close. The predictions of the Democratic leaders that President Wilson would be the favorite have not been fulfilled.

The betting is becoming more active on the presidential candidates. Having found that the backers of Wilson are willing to take a risk on him, the republicans have shortened the odds. Hughes was a 10-to-8 favorite yesterday over Wilson in the Indiana election.

There is very little betting that Wilson will carry Indiana. One large bet of $10,000 was made here a few days ago between two Indianapolis business men on the outcome of the presidential race in Indiana. The bet was at even money. Another Indianapolis manufacturer has bet $4,000 that James E. Watson will defeat Senator Thomas Taggart for the short term in the Senate. The same man has $3,000 bet that Hughes will be elected President. Several $1,000 bets on the outcome of the presidential race have been made within the past week.

The betting indicates that the Republican state ticket will go through a heavy favorite over the Democratic candidates. In fact there is practically no betting that James P. Goodrich, Republican nominee for Governor, will not be elected.

On several betting boards odds of 10 to 8 and even 10 to 7 were offered yesterday that Goodrich will be elected. No bets were offered that J. A. M. Adair, Democrat, will be elected Governor. The betting on the gubernatorial candidates shows that Goodrich is a strong favorite. Republican leaders maintain that the odds offered on Goodrich indicate clearly the drift in his direction.

Some even money that Senator Taggart will be elected was posted at the Denison Hotel yesterday. An Indianapolis business man took some of it, but later in the day $400 more at even money was posted in favor of Taggart and it had not been taken late last night. At other betting boards 10 to 8 was offered that Watson will be elected.

Only a few bets have been posted on the race between Senator John W. Kern and Harry S. New. New is a favorite over Kern at odds of 10 to 7. A small bet was posted yesterday that Taggart will receive fewer votes than any other senatorial candidate.

Apparently most of the betting will be on the outcome of the presidential race. A large sum already has been wagered that Hughes will beat Wilson. On the boards last night there was several hundred dollars at even money that Hughes will be elected. In posting their bets the backers of the President, as a rule, are demanding 10 for 8 that he will be elected, although several bets at 10 to 9 were offered.

Even money was offered at Dan Smith's that Hughes will carry Indiana, Illinois, New York and New Jersey, which naturally would mean his election. Even money was offered at two or three places that Wilson will carry Ohio. Odds of 10 to 7 or 8 are demanded that Hughes will carry Ohio.

In the betting the tendency favors the Republican candidates on the Marion County ticket, 2 to 1 being offered that Alvah J. Rueker, prosecutor, and Sheriff Coffin will be re-elected.

BALLOTS HAVE ALL BEEN DISTRIBUTED

Supplies From State Are Now in the Hands of the County Clerks Over State.

FIFTY MEN DID THE WORK

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 1.—Three sample National ballots, three copies of the election laws, three blue pencils and the number of ballots required for each precinct, which must be counted three times, constitute the contents of packages of ballots sent to the ninety-two clerks over the state. Three ropes are tied around each package and three seals are put on, fastening the ropes to the paper.

This is the process that the ballots to be used at the election November 7 are put through before they are handed to the voter. Fifty men were employed in the basement of the state capitol counting, binding, sealing, labelling and distributing the ballots. It took several motor trucks to carry the ballots from the capitol to the trains.

E. F. Donnell, clerk of the state election board, had personal supervision of the distribution of the ballots. The election board is composed of Governor Ralston, Mr. O'Donnell, and two members of the leading political parties—W. H. Thompson for the Republicans and Reginald Sullivan for the Democrats.

WHAT OF THAT PROMISE TO REDUCE THE COST of LIVING?

Food prices have gone higher, higher, higher under the Democratic regime that promised in its platform lower food prices until now they have mounted to figures that are staggering.

This is the tremendous and almost unbearable price the people are paying for blood-stained, speculative, fictitious "Prosperity" that filches from the average man's pocket-book vastly more than it puts in.

The increase in the cost of living in this country in the past year, like the extravagance of the Democratic Congress, smashes all records, and is bringing hardship into hundreds of thousands of homes. Democrats cannot at once claim credit for the "prosperity" produced by war and at the same time escape responsibility for the increased cost of living by blaming that upon the war.

Commodity prices for 1916, says Bradstreet's financial review, issued September 20th in New York, are going up at an unprecedented rate. For the whole country the price index number, arrived at by totaling the prices per pound of 96 articles of the most common use, was 11.7853 for September 1, 1916, as against 9.8634 for September 1, 1915, and 8.6566 for August 1, 1914—practically the same as on September 1, 1912. In other words, commodities which cost 86 1/4 cents in 1914 and 98 cents in 1915, now cost $1.18. Bradstreet's continues:

"It is interesting to note that the breadstuffs group shows a rise of 42 per cent over last year, provisions have risen 26 per cent, hide and leather 21 per cent, and textiles 33 per cent."

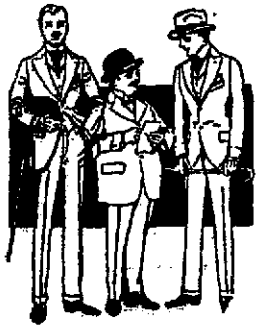

Those who go to buy shoes this fall find that shoes that sold last year for $2.50, are now $3.25 or more; $5 shoes are $7 or more. Clothing has gone up 25 per cent, and merchants are unable to get quotations on clothes for delivery next spring, but another hoist of 25% is expected. Calico, linen, poplin, broadcloth, serges, cambric, have gone up from 10 to 50 per cent in price.

Average family is paying terrible price for our blood-stained prosperity!

CHOOSE HUGHES

In increased cost of living the people of the United States are paying three dollars for every dollar of the total exports of the United States and six dollars for every dollar we are to the good as a nation in our transactions with foreign countries. The profits accruing from this vast foreign trade, incident to the European war, go to the fortunate few, while the burdens, becoming almost unbearable, are being heaped upon the backs of the many. And this under an administration which promised to abolish the high cost of living, and which professes attachment to the welfare of the American masses.

KICK THAT BEAT TUFTS HIS BEST

Dave Tibbott, Who Won For Princeton, Turned in His Best Effort With That Boot.

IS GOOD AT CRITICAL TIMES
He Was a Substitute Last Year But Was Called Upon Several Times

BY HAMILTON.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
New York, Nov. 1.—Dave Tibbott, who drop-kicked a victory over the Tufts goal in the recent meeting between Princeton and Tufts, turned in the best kick of his somewhat brilliant kicking career that p. m. Tibbott has been a member of the Princeton team as a substitute back-field man since last season and has been used with great regularity as a drop kicker when critical periods showed up. In the Tufts game he had made several ineffectual attempts to put over a field goal, but had failed from distances which appeared comparatively easy, with just two minutes left before time would be called Tibbott again was called on, and delivered with a perfect drive from the forty-six yard line sending the ball at least three feet above the cross bar. It was the longest goal he ever made.

The kick was just two yards more of a boot than one of his registered a year ago in the contest with Dartmouth.

Last year Tibbott showed up mightily well as a kicker. Besides turning in the goal in the Dartmouth game Tibbott booted two goals in the game with Syracuse which won the game, one from the forty-three yard line and one from thirty yard line. He also dropped one from the thirty-three yard line in the struggle with Rutgers.

In the Princeton-Harvard game he drop-kicked two goals, one from the thirty yard line, the second from the twenty-five. Tibbott is strictly a drop kicker not a single goal from placement being credited to him.

TO OPEN BIDS FOR SUBMARINES

Navy Department Receives Prices on Four Scout Cruisers and 30 U. Boats.

MOST OF THEM OF USUAL TYPE
Several Firms Have Signified Their Intentions of Bidding—All to Have Modern Equipment.

(By United Press.)
Washington, Nov. 1.—The Navy Department today will open bids for four scout cruisers and 30 coast defense submarines. The scout cruisers, to be known for the present as Nos. 4 to 7 inclusive, will be the largest and fastest vessels of their class built for any navy. Their chief characteristics will be: displacement, 7,000 tons, speed, 35 knots; length 550 feet; beam, 55 feet; armament, eight 6-inch guns, 4 torpedo tubes and two 3-inch anti-aircraft guns; complement, 330.

Their high-powered machinery will be protected by light vertical and horizontal armor. A new feature of these vessels, never incorporated in any ship of a powerful military type will be their complete equipment for carrying, launching of the largest size hydro-aeroplanes.

Twenty-seven of the coast submarines will be of the usual type. They will be known for the present as Nos. 78 to 104 inclusive.

The remaining three, Nos. 105 to 107, will be of a new type, representing a marked increase in size over the usual coast submarine. Each of these three vessels will represent different ideas. It is hoped in their development to arrive at a size of vessel which will be sufficiently large to perform nearly all the duties required of a submarine, but at the same time sufficiently small to be built quickly in large numbers.

Those firms which applied to bid for the scout cruisers are: Bath Iron Works, Fore River Shipbuilding Co., New York Shipbuilding Co., Wm. Cramp & Sons Ship & Engine Building Co., Bethlehem Steel Co., Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co., Union Iron Works Co., and Seattle Construction & Dry Dock Co., Union Iron Works Co., and Seattle Construction & Dry Dock Co.

For the submarines the following applied to bid: Electric Boat Co., Lake Torpedo Boat Co., New York Shipbuilding Co., Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co., Union Iron Works Co., and California Shipbuilding Co.

BOTH PLACES IN VERY GOOD SHAPE

County Jail and Poor Asylum Ar. Kept in Fine Condition, According to Report Made.

PUBLISHED IN BULLETIN

The Indiana bulletin of correction and charities contains the following report from the county board of charities, showing that the county jail and poor asylum are kept in good condition.

Poor Asylum—Visited July, 1916. The buildings are old, and it requires more of an effort to keep things looking well than if the structure were modern. Everything about the place is well kept and the living apartments frequently scoured and scalded and disinfected. The beds, floors, tables, windows—in fact, everything, was clean. Every room is in good order. No vermin and no flies. The food is substantial, well cooked and plentiful and the inmates are satisfied and contented. Population: 13 men and 5 women. The grounds surrounding the houses are beautiful with an abundance of shade. Nearly all the inmates were on the lawn under the trees, where seats are provided. Outdoor services are held Sunday afternoons. The lawn is well kept. The garden is free from weeds and in fine condition. There is an abundance of vegetables and berries.

County Jail—Visited July 1916. We were in all the cells in all the departments and found everything clean and white. It is satisfactory in every respect. One prisoner present.

(Signed) CORA M. STEWART, Secretary.

CLAIMS PRISONERS TREATED TO GOOD

Italian Newspapers Demand Stern Treatment For Austrian Captives—Want Fewer Luxuries.

SAY LIMIT HAS BEEN REACHED

(By United Press.) Rome, Italy, Oct. 14.—(By Mail) —“This is the life.” This is the joyful song of Italy's Austrian prisoners. At any rate, today's Italian newspapers are saying so emphatically.

“Treat our captives less like our guests,” the journals urge on the authorities. As a result, the government shortly will begin the systematic working of its prisoners.

The more than 100,000 Austrians, who are imprisoned in Italy's camps, live on the fat of the land, it is charged. Generally they are passing lives of sunny idleness, living in what is really luxury for wartime.

Recently the newspapers discovered that Austrian officers under Italian escort were visiting gay resorts almost weekly. Then and not until then did the editors cry “halt!” They had borne with the enemies who had burned the Italian flag in their Gorizia internment camp. They had even kept silent when the colors, opposite the camp, were removed because they were an “eyesore” to the Austrians.

But the limit had been reached at last. So they declare that the Italians must lose their proverbial soft-heartedness. Poverty-stricken mothers of Italy are sending $2 a month and more to feed their starving prisoners sons in Austria, it is alleged. “An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth,” the papers demand.

THEY DRIFT MANY MILES.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 1.—“When you walk into a spider web floating in the air on an Indian summer day, you have broken the flight of a small aeronautic spider,” stated Frank N. Wallace, state entomologist today. “The spider crawls to a high pinnacle weaves a web and lets go. The current of air going upward keeps the web and spider afloat and they have been known to travel more than 200 miles.”

Ford THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The new Ford cars are up-to-the-minute in appearance, with large radiator and enclosed fan, hood with full streamline effect, crown fenders front and rear, black finish with nickel trimmings—a snappy looking car—and with all the dependable, enduring and economical qualities that have made the Ford “The Universal Car.” One fact is worth more than a ton of guesses. Ford cars are selling from five to ten over any and all other cars, simply because they give more satisfactory service, last longer and are easier to operate and cost less to maintain—and there's no guessing about the reliability of Ford Service. Runabout $345, Touring Car $360, Coupelet $505, Town Car $595, Sedan $645—f. o. b. Detroit. On sale at Organic Education to be Studied by Teachers.

(By United Press.) St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 1.—“Organic education,” as founded by Mrs. Marietta L. Johnson of Fairhope, Ala., will be studied by the teachers attending the fifty-fourth annual meeting of the Minnesota Educational association, beginning today and continuing until Saturday. Mrs. Johnson will lecture.

Her school at Fairhope is sane lessons, sane scholastic grades, and sane desks. Pupils are divided into “life period classes” and are taught almost entirely by conversation.

Or dealer who will produce a soft coal stove outside the construction of the FLORENCE that will burn all the ingredients of soft coal—absolutely—or will heat the same amount of space with the same amount of fuel as the Florence.

(Signed) J. B. HOWARD.

This offer appeared in this paper the week of October 16, and up until this time no one has accepted the challenge.

4 OR 5 TONS OF COAL WILL HEAT YOUR HOME
ALL WINTER WITH A

FLORENCE

You will remember the great Hot Blast Air Tight Florence that was demonstrated in the Centennial parade Friday, Oct. 13, by Mr. J. B. Howard, the inventor. Read what he has to say about it:

Mr. Howard, the inventor, says that with 4 or 5 tons of the poorest and cheapest grade of soft coal you can heat 4 or 5 rooms all winter with a No. 153 Florence, which will produce cleaner results than hard coal in a base burner. The result that you will get with 4 or 5 tons of the poorest soft coal in the Florence, will equal 6 or 7 tons of coal in any other make of stove or furnace. The FLORENCE makes its own gas and burns it. The FLORENCE makes its own coke and burns it.

INDEPENDENTS ORGANIZE

Manilla Quintet is Going After State Championship This Year

The Manilla independent basketball team has been organized and is seeking games with any quintet in the state, no matter how strong. The Manilla aggregation thinks that it can make a strong bid for the independent championship of the state this season. A great addition to the team has been made in the person of Donnie Hillgoss, a crack guard, who has signed to play with Manilla. He will captain the five. The quintet will line up with Hester, Hedges, Inlow and Fox as forwards, Kemper as center and Hillgoss and Beech as guards. Hedges is the manager.
